Steamer in Flames and Listing Hard to Starboard
- Drifting Southeastward

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The former transport Northern Pacific—which last claimed headlines in 1919, when she crashed onto a sandbank, off Fire Island and with 3800 American soldiers she was bringing back from France—today was destroyed by fire 40 miles off Cape
May, N. J.

A crackle of the radio early this morning brought word that fire had broken out aboard the swift steamer
and that she was a mass of flames.

Later messages report that she had been abandoned by Capt. William Lunt and her skeleton crew who were taking her to drydock in Chester, Pa.

Rescue of all her crew by steamships which had rushed to the scene next was recorded.

The latest message stated that the vessel, blazing fiercely, and listing hard to starboard, was drifting southeast-ward.

Officials of the Admiral Line, operating the vessel, continued to Page Six of a motor truck to replace two horses, the establishment of a stock room, and proper card index system for the receipt and delivery of equipment, a disposition of some sort of a large accumulation of junk and either the sale or use of five large sets of scales, purchased in 1918 and still unused, are included in the survey report of the

One Killed in Shooting at Mill Gate

YORKVILLE, Ohio, Feb. 8.—At least one man was killed and a number of others injured in a fight this morning at the plant of the Wheeling Steel Corporation here. The plant resumed operations yesterday after being shut down since last July when the company and the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers were unable to reach an agreement. The dead man, Elmer Cox of Tillonville, was said to have been on duty as a union picket when the shooting occurred. At the mill were a number of deputy sheriffs.

CHARGES GRAND JURY COERCED

Counsel for Attorney General
Allen Accuses District
Attorney Pelletier

Makes Plea for Dismissal of Indictment Against Allen
for Larceny

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Charges that the grand jury which recently indicted
Attorney General J. Weston Allen for larceny of $155, had been coerced by District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, were made by counsel for Mr. Allen today, in a plea of abatement asking that the indictment be dismissed.

The plea, offered before Judge Foster in the superior court, was admitted in place of a previous plea of not guilty after Jeremiah A. Desmond, foreman of the grand jury, had testified that Pelletier and Assistant District Attorney Pelletier had threatened him.

SAVED LIVES OF TENANTS

Good Work by Two Policemen at Early Morning
Fire

Children and Others Rescued
From Burning Building in Dummer Street

Quick thought and action on the part of two local police officers, Patrolmen William F. Liston and William Lee, undoubtedly saved the lives
of tenants living in the block at 57
Dummer street early this morning,
when a threatening fire broke out in the dry goods store of Nicholas Liels, next door, and volumes of smoke rolled out to fill eight tenements on the floors above.

Patrolmen Liston and Lee were standing together in Broadway, just at the head of Dummer street at about 2:45 o'clock when the latter saw flames
coming from the store at 57 Dummer.
He ran to pull fire alarm box 113 at Lewis and Little streets, while Patrolman Liston dashed down Dummer
street and into the building. Awaking tenants on three floors, he then carried three children to safety. Liels, Ambrose and men of the protected company then went through the building with Officers Liston and Lee and either carried or guided everyone living there to the street.

The fire did considerable damage to the dry goods store and also spread into the coffee house next door, owned by Nicholas Mantos. The fire was not sounded until nearly 4 o'clock.

MISS MINTER'S HOME GUARDED

Mayor of Los Angeles Replies
to Criticisms of Motion Picture Colony

Letters Written to Taylor by Miss Normand, Which Disappeared, Are Returned

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—A reply to criticisms of the motion picture colony here, resulting from the murder of William Desmond Taylor, has been issued by Mayor George E. Cryer.

"The attacks being made, particularly in outside cities, against the morals of the so-called motion picture colony in Los Angeles, are unfair and due, I believe, to hastily formed conclusions by people not familiar with real facts," he said.

The Arbutle case and the slaying of Mr. Taylor were indeed unfortunate affairs, but it is not just to criticize an entire group of people such as those engaged in the motion picture industry for incidents, many of them not true, as to facts, which have been published broadcast lately.

Letters written to Taylor by Mabel
Normand, which later disappeared, have been returned to her, according to detectives. The return was made,
it was declared, after a man connected with the film world, who had taken them had been threatened with a grand jury investigation.

A representative of Miss Normand said the letters had not been given back to her.

Captain of Detectives David L.
Adams stated the police never had been in possession of Miss Normand's letters, nor of those written by Miss Minter to Taylor.

Miss Minter has guards around her house to keep away unwelcome callers,
as she is ill, it is reported.

FIRST DEATH HERE

FROM INFLUENZA

The first death, with influenza as a contributory cause, was reported today to the board of health and at the same time there were evidences that the disease is rapidly increasing in the city.

Up until 2 o'clock there had been 11
new cases reported to the board today, bringing the total number since January 25 up to 62. Yesterday there were 19 new cases.

Public Service Board Must Call Upon Civil Service For Street and Ash Collection Superintendents

Important Ruling Received From Commissioner Places
Doherty, Wilson, Kearney and Gardner Under Civil Service—Kearney and Gardner Exempt From Examination Because of Long Service

As a result of a communication and ruling received by the board of public service from the commissioner of civil service, it will be necessary to make requisition upon the commission to fill the positions of superintendent of streets and waste collection, now occupied respectively by Henry P. Doherty and Sutton Wilson.

When such requisitions are received in the office of the commissioner he will authorize provisional appointments and will order examinations held for the positions. This means that both men now serving will be obliged to take such examinations, whether or not they are competitive

or non-competitive.

The board of public service was notified yesterday by the civil service commission that Henry P. Doherty, superintendent of streets; Sutton Wilson, division superintendent of ashes and waste collection; Robert Gardner, superintendent of water, and Stephen Kearney, city engineer, are held to be classified as under civil service.

In view of the length of service of Mr. Kearney and Mr. Gardner, however, their appointments will be exempted from the records as properly made.

It will be recalled that Henry P.
Doherty was elected to the position of superintendent of streets by the old government in 1921 and later a similar action was taken by the board of public service.

Sutton Wilson, as far as can be learned, was appointed by Mayor Geo.
H. Brown, with no confirming vote or action of any kind forthcoming from the public service board. The division over which Mr. Wilson has charge is directly subordinate to the board,

however.

On Friday night at 7:30 o'clock the delegates of the various unions to the Lowell Textile council will attend the regular meeting of the organization and will report whatever action has been taken by their respective union in connection with the acceptance or rejection of the proposed 20 per cent.
cut. If five or more of the unions report that the vote of their respective organization favors a strike, then the council will order the operatives of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. to remain away from the plant Monday morning.

The only employees of the Bay State Cotton Corp. who are organized, it was learned today, are the loomfixers, but it is not believed they will take any action until the exact amount of the reduction at that mill has been announced, for the notices that were posted last week read that a readjustment of wages will take effect Monday, Feb. 13. The employees of the plant are anxious to know just what is meant by a readjustment, and one of the local labor leaders stated today that it is found that the reduction there is excessive, the loom-fixers of the plant will resent it by refusing to work.

The members of the Ring Spinner
Fixers' union also held a special meeting last night and took a strike vote,
but result of the balloting will not be made public until after Friday night's meeting.

BIG DEMAND ON CHARITY DEPARTMENT

The month of January, just past, brought tremendously increased work and expenditure of money to the local charity department, in comparison with January of a year ago.

In the department of out-door relief there was expended this year $5582, against $3948 last January. In 1922 there were sent out 725 orders at $3 each and 521 orders at $5, in comparison with 503 three-dollar orders and 404 six-dollar orders in during the month in 1921.

The mothers' aid payroll for January of this year amounts to $7045, against $5865 a year ago, while $1659 was spent as cash allowances this year against $1329 in January, 1921.

Charity Superintendent Martin Conley said today that he has found poverty to be more general throughout the city this year than in 1921, when it seemed to be confined to a few sections. At present there are 366 patients at the Chelmsford Street hospital, which is about 70 above the average for 1921.

Keeping Up With the Trend of the Times

It is really a problem for the average man to keep up with the trend of the times, especially in its relation to the security markets.

Meeting a Well Needed Requirement

Every week we publish a twelve-page financial newspaper, bristling with news, containing many valuable features, too numerous to mention here.

This newspaper meets the requirements very well and enables you to keep up with the trend of the times.

SLASHER TENDERS' UNION VOTES
NOT TO ACCEPT WAGE REDUCTION

Ring Spinner Fixers Take Strike Vote at Special Meeting---Loomfixers and Weavers Will Hold Special Meetings Tomorrow---Attitude of Various Unions Will Be Made Known at Textile Council Meeting Friday

The latest development in the local textile situation is contained in an official announcement made this morning to the effect that the members of the Slasher Tenders' union at a meeting held last night voted unanimously to reject the proposed 20 per cent reduction in wages at the Hamilton
mills or any other similar reduction that may be announced in other local textile mills. The vote of the union means that the organization went on record as favoring a strike rather than accepting the proposed reduction.
The action of the slasher tenders does not necessarily mean that a strike will be ordered for Monday morning, for similar action is required in the majority of the nine unions affiliated with the Lowell Textile Council before the operatives are ordered not to report to work.

The members of the Ring Spinner
Fixers' union also held a special meeting last night and took a strike vote,
but result of the balloting will not be made public until after Friday night's

CUT IN MILL WAGES

An Operative Protests Against Reduction—What The Sun Said on Matter

We gladly print the following communication from a mill worker whose name we believe is typical of thousands who work in the mills of our city, and who would be very seriously affected by a cut down in wages:

Editor of The Sun:

I am writing you an article recently printed in your paper, you seem to uphold the Hamilton and Bay State Cotton Mills in cutting wages 20 per cent. Now I am earning $12.50 per week and I have five children, the oldest 12 years, and pay $5.25 rent per week for a tenement having a bath but no hot water. I have 7.1 The Sun says now for six cents per week now it is 12 cents. A haircut was 20 cents—now it is 35. The rent for the tenement I live in was $2.50 per week a few years ago, but now it is more than double that amount. The policemen get almost double their former pay, the firemen the same. City Treasurer Bourke asks more pay for his clerks. Is there one of those clerks who can go out and get the same pay from any private firm? Or did you ever hear of one giving up his or her job because of being underpaid? Mr. Editor, I hope you will print this letter in your paper and also explain how a man can support a family such as mine on $12.50 a week. During the war I helped with service. Did you ever see the millmen raise wages 20 per cent or 22 per cent at one time? No, it was 5 per cent, 10 per cent or 15 per cent at the most.

But when they cut down, it is 22 1/2 per cent. Do you wonder that we have to have soup kitchens in the city? When the taxes go up $1 on a thousand, the landlord raises the rent $1 or $2 a month. I would like that you would explain how a man situated as I am can live on what I am getting, or how I could live and support a family after a cut of 20 per cent. As proposed in the Hamilton mill and also in the Bay State Cotton mill and in the other mills a little later on. By printing this communication you will oblige.

Yours truly,
(Signed)
A. S. SULLIVAN, A Mill Worker.
Lowell, Mass., Feb. 8, 1922.

The writer of the above communication is greatly mistaken if he thinks the Sun upholds the proposed cut of 20 per cent in the Hamilton and Bay State Cotton company. In referring to it, we said that the announcement seemed to comp a part of a movement to readjust wages in the textile industry all over New England, and that as the operators are concerned the situation calls for wise leadership and united action in the interests of all concerned. We also said:

"The chief objection to the reduction of wages at present is that the cost of living has not been reduced to the extent usually represented. For some reason or other the consumers are not getting the benefits of the radical reductions announced by wholesalers.

"Many retailers seem still to think that war prices should prevail, and this is very largely where the economic shoe pinches.

"The operatives can ill afford to bear any radical cut in wages unless the cost of living is reduced in like proportion."

That does not seem to uphold the proposed cut. We do not know the affairs of any mill or what rate of wages such mills can afford to pay. We believe, however, that if John Golden were alive, he would have held several conferences with the mills mentioned and would soon be able to decide what was the best policy to pursue.

The writer of the above communication has our sympathy; and we confess that we cannot see just how a man can support a family such as his in any degree of comfort on 12 1/2 wages he is receiving. He is now getting $3.25 a day, and if his wage were reduced by 20 per cent he would get but $2.60 a day, which would average about 43 cents a day for the support of each member of his family. The fact that there are many cases in Lowell even worse than this, should bring sympathy to the cause of the operatives and induce the mill managers to avoid wage cuts so far as possible.—Ed.

Research in the archives of the office of the city auditor shows in 1918, when the present mayor, Hon. George H. Brown, was serving under the old form of charter as commissioner of fire and water, there were payments of $2034 made on four sets of Bennington scales, purchased for the water department.

That portion of the committee's report which deals with the scales, states that at the West Sixth street station there are three large scales, each reading a set of Bennington scales; another set stands at the Cook well, while a set of American Automatic scales, also erected, is to be found at the boulevard pumping station.

Each of these scales is of large dimensions and has been the property of the department for some years and as these scales never have been installed, we would recommend that they be put into use or disposed of, the report states.

The committee also lists 10 one-gallon cans of "Fire Service" at $15 per gallon, at the West Sixth street station and recommends a practical test to determine its value.

The committee's report in full is as follows:

Lowell, Mass., Jan. 21, 1922.
To the Board of Public Service,
City Hall, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: Your inventory committee herewith submits recommendations that in their opinion, will be of benefit in the water works department and are as follows:

1. The brick building now used as a stable and at the present time housing only two horses could be changed to make an excellent stock room. The horses ought to be disposed of and in place of them a small motor truck could be purchased. Some modern card index system should be installed in this stock room that will show the receipt or delivery of any article.
2. In the attic over the machine shop are many valuable patterns used in the department which should be made a part of the stock, properly labelled and tagged.
3. In nearly every part of the department are collected piles of junk, consisting of boxes, broken rubber, together with old wagons, stables, engines and pumps that could be disposed of.
4. At the West Sixth street station are three large crates containing a set of Bennington scales. At the Cook well is another set of Bennington scales erected and at the boulevard pumping station one set of American Automatic scales, also erected. Each of these scales is of large dimensions and has been the property of the department for some years and as these scales never have been installed, we would recommend that they be put into use or disposed of.
5. In the West Sixth street stock room are 10 one-gallon cans of "Fire Service" listed at $15 per gallon. We would recommend that this so-called fire fluid be put to a practical test to determine its value.
6. At the West Sixth street station, above the machine shop, is a carpenter shop fully equipped. An carpenter is at present employed there, and we recommend that a skilled mechanic or carpenter be secured to do the work necessary for the upkeep of the department.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN H. CULLEN, Chairman,

Inventory Committee Reports

late yesterday afternoon and was taken under advisement for further study and investigation on the part of the board members.

Research in the archives of the office of the city auditor shows in 1918, when the present mayor, Hon. George H. Brown, was serving under the old form of charter as commissioner of fire and water, there were payments of $2034 made on four sets of Bennington scales, purchased for the water department.

That portion of the committee's report which deals with the scales, states that at the West Sixth street station there are three large scales, each reading a set of Bennington scales; another set stands at the Cook well, while a set of American Automatic scales, also erected, is to be found at the boulevard pumping station.

Each of these scales is of large dimensions and has been the property of the department for some years and as these scales never have been installed, we would recommend that they be put into use or disposed of, the report states.

The committee also lists 10 one-gallon cans of "Fire Service" at $15 per gallon, at the West Sixth street station and recommends a practical test to determine its value.

The committee's report in full is as follows:

Lowell, Mass., Jan. 21, 1922.
To the Board of Public Service,
City Hall, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: Your inventory committee herewith submits recommendations that in their opinion, will be of benefit in the water works department and are as follows:

1. The brick building now used as a stable and at the present time housing only two horses could be changed to make an excellent stock room. The horses ought to be disposed of and in place of them a small motor truck could be purchased. Some modern card index system should be installed in this stock room that will show the receipt or delivery of any article.
2. In the attic over the machine shop are many valuable patterns used in the department which should be made a part of the stock, properly labelled and tagged.
3. In nearly every part of the department are collected piles of junk, consisting of boxes, broken rubber, together with old wagons, stables, engines and pumps that could be disposed of.
4. At the West Sixth street station are three large crates containing a set of Bennington scales. At the Cook well is another set of Bennington scales erected and at the boulevard pumping station one set of American Automatic scales, also erected. Each of these scales is of large dimensions and has been the property of the department for some years and as these scales never have been installed, we would recommend that they be put into use or disposed of.
5. In the West Sixth street stock room are 10 one-gallon cans of "Fire Service" listed at $15 per gallon. We would recommend that this so-called fire fluid be put to a practical test to determine its value.
6. At the West Sixth street station, above the machine shop, is a carpenter shop fully equipped. An carpenter is at present employed there, and we recommend that a skilled mechanic or carpenter be secured to do the work necessary for the upkeep of the department.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN H. CULLEN, Chairman,
W. CHESTER GRAY, Secretary,
CARL E. LIPPE.

Interior Dept. Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The interior department appropriation bill carrying $925,622,112, was reported today by the house appropriations committee. The total is $19,573,937.07 less than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year, and $3,754,020 less than the amount requested in the budget estimates.

Favor Taxation to Raise Funds for Bonus

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Funds for the soldiers' bonus would be raised through taxation under present plans of the majority members of the house ways and means committee, according to information given today after those members had discussed the whole bonus situation in executive session. It was stated that it was not the purpose to depend upon any part of the interest or principal of the foreign debts.

Draft Report on Arms Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—The report of the American arms conference delegation may be presented to President Harding late today or tomorrow, it was indicated today at the state department, where the delegation again went into session to continue drafting of the report. It was considered probable that the president might send the treaties evolving from the arms conference to the senate before the end of the week. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, who headed the naval advisors to the American delegation, had a lengthy conference today with President Harding.

Decrease in Number of Blind in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The number of blind persons in the United States decreased from 57,272 in 1910 to 52,617 in 1920, according to the last census.

STREET MAINTENANCE PAYROLL REDUCED

A reduction of $248.92 from the week previous is shown in the payroll total of street maintenance, payable on Friday of this week. The total amount is $1182.07, against $684.99 for the week before, thus bringing the figures well within the $2000 maximum ordered for that department by the public service board. It has been necessary to lay off quite a good many men to reduce the payroll to the present figures.

An direct connection with this reduction was the appearance before the board yesterday of Timothy Finnegan, representing the municipal employees' union, for the purpose of voicing the protest of his organization against a policy of laying off so many street department laborers, particularly men old in the service.

The chairman of the board told Mr. Finnegan that the board would take the matter under advisement, but that an endeavor is being made to live within the anticipated appropriation for that department for 1922.

PAID SPRAYED FOR SKATING

Employees of the park department sprayed the surface of Washington park today for skating. If it holds cold tonight the surface should be in excellent condition tomorrow.

LAST DAY FOR GENERAL RECRUITING HERE

Sergeant Dobbins and Corporal Berkovich of the general recruiting service state that today is the last opportunity for enlistment during the present drive, as they leave their quarters in the postoffice early tomorrow morning. They feel that if they could remain here a little longer, now that they have become acquainted in this city, that they could establish a notable record, and have Lowell posted as one of the leading recruiting centres, with a permanent station. However, they must report in Boston tomorrow morning.

Yesterday, from ten to fifteen men were sent away, among them the following: Roger W. Foster, 1608 Graham street; Malcolm S. Guthrie, 1641 Graham street; Thomas F. Knight, 13 Jewett street and John J. Buckball, 31 Stanley street, all enlisted in the coast artillery for three years, the last named being sent to Fort Terry, N. Y. Cornelius O'Brien, 145 Salem street, and his buddy, Percy St. Milaire, 115 Salem street, formerly of the 13th Infantry, Co. B, re-enlisted, and Joseph A. Tourville, 25 Denbow place, were sent to the same outfit. The remaining names were not on the list, as there have been two other men on recruiting duty in Lowell and their list of names was not available.

Glasses as a protection for watch dials were introduced in 1620.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflame the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate, our food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea. He tells us to buy aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Adv.

CONCORD STREET BOY BITTEN BY DOG

It has been reported to the board of health that John Stone, aged 11 years, living at 194 Concord street, was bitten yesterday on the left hand by a dog owned by Miss Catherine Crowley of 196 Concord street.

It will be recalled that the city council passed an ordinance last Friday, effective Feb. 3, which made it obligatory upon all dog owners to either muzzle or restrain dogs from running free for a period of three months.

This action was taken on the recommendation of Dr. Walter J. Sherman, city animal inspector, as a means of checking any epidemic of rabies.

Ship Wrecked Off Cape Cod

The steamer was beginning to break up, coast guards said the men of the Thistlemore stood by. The freighter, under the drive of high wind and heavy seas during the night had crossed both the outer and inner Peaked 1111 bars.

In that position the coast guards of the Race Point and Peaked Hill stations found it possible to make fast a line for the breeches buoy after a night of failure. The coast guard cutter Tanipa, which went speeding down the coast to the Thistlemore last after hearing her S.O.S. last evening, was forced to stand off the coast, beyond the dangers of bars and shoals. Captain Fortune had asked that the men of the steamer be taken off, but when the Thistlemore settled into her sandy bed, it was decided that they

IF YOU ARE THIN AND EMACIATED AND WISH SOMETHING TO HELP YOU PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT, Yeast Vitamine Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood just as fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely masses into your body without doing you any good.

DIPLOMATS ARE NAMED

ambassador to Germany and Minister to Austria and Hungary Nominated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Diplomatic representatives to Germany, Austria and Hungary were nominated yesterday by President Harding. Alanson B. Houghton of New York being selected ambassador to Germany; Albert Henry Washburn of Middleboro, Mass., minister to Austria, and Theodore Gentano of Illinois, as minister to Hungary.

Confirmation by the senate of the nominations of Houghton, Washburn and Gentano and presentation by the president of letters of credence to the governments to which they are to be accredited will completely restore the status of the United States with its former enemy countries.

The president's decision to nominate Mr. Houghton as ambassador to Germany was announced some time ago and his nomination came as no surprise. The prospective new ambassador at present is serving his second term as a member of the house from the 37th New York district. He has large manufacturing interests at Orange, N. Y., and prior to the war made a number of visits to Germany. He received a portion of his education at the Universities of Berlin and Göttingen.

The nominations were sent to the senate and referred to the foreign relations committee.

Former Assistant U. S. Attorney Mr. Washburn is an attorney with offices in New York, though his home

RUBBER BATHING SUIT FOR WINTER

Miss Persis Tuma, of Riverside Drive, New York, has the winter tourists at Atlantic City agape with her new bathing suit. It's made of rubber. She says it retains the body heat and is just the thing for snow plunges. She didn't say the open work stockings retain the heat.

A Beautiful Complexion &amp; Admiration

Ladies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clean up the skin than all the beauty treatments in creation. An impure complexion is caused by a sluggish liver. ## End Rheumatism, Weak, Lame Back

Old St. Jacobs Oil will stop pain and stiffness in a few moments.

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, and not one rheumatism case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil on the tender spot, and by the time you say Jack Robinson out comes the rheumatism pain and distress. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and does not burn the skin. It takes pain, stiffness and aches away—Adv.

THIN, FADED HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE" TO THICKEN IT

35 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine." Within ten minutes after the first application you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping your hair to grow long, thick and luxuriant.

Girls! Girls! Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, thin, scraggy. A single application of delightful Danderine will double the beauty and radiance of your hair and make it look twice as abundant.

Inhale It—Rub It In for grippe, influenza, fainting, colds, catarrhal pains, sore throat, headache, bronchitis, asthma, croup, etc. The favorite family liniment for more than 65 years.

ANNOUNCES DECREASE IN COST OF LIVING

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—The cost of living is coming down slowly. According to a statement given out yesterday by Eugene C. Tullman, chairman of the state commission on the necessities of life, it has dropped 14 per cent. in the last month.

He said: "The trend of living costs in Massachusetts, as indicated from monthly index figures compiled from retail prices, shows a reduction for January of 2.3 points (1.4 per cent.) from December.

"Food, which comprises about 43 per cent. of the family budget, showed a decline in many items. Eggs, milk, butter, sugar, flour, bread, corned beef, and bacon prices dropped. White fish, potato, onion, whole ham and veal prices increased.

"Clothing prices reflected a noticeable reduction in the post-holiday month. Practically every item entering into compilation of the clothing index figure fell below the December prices in both men's and women's lines.

"Rentals for the cheaper tenements and middle-class apartments continued their upward trend, although some reductions have been noted in high-grade apartments not under lease.

"The fuel section and electric coal prices were lowered about 50 cents per ton, kerosene oil 1 cent a gallon and gas and electricity rates were slightly reduced in certain sections of the commonwealth.

"Sundry items, which vary according to the income and idiosyncrasies of the individual, did not change materially in price. From reports received by this office the demand for other than necessary 'sundries' continued to slacken.

"Comparative elements and the combined course of living gains on the basis of the retail prices in 1913 equaling 100, are as follows:

	December, '21	January '22
Food	129.4	126.1
Clothing	126.1	121.1
Shelter	121.0	122.5
Fuel	120.5	117.3
Sundries	118.0	117.0

WOULD RESTRICT USE OF WIRELESS TELEPHONE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary Hoover was directed yesterday by President Harding to call a conference of army, navy and commercial experts on wireless telephony to conduct an investigation looking towards restriction of wireless telephony.

The subject was discussed at length in yesterday's cabinet session. The president was told that through the broad-casting of news, advertising, etc., concerts and other reports there had arisen the danger of interruption to the use of the wireless telephone for purposes of national defense and commercial purposes.

as the trial, now started, proceeds: Foight and Lampitt both were workers in the Grass Creek oil field in one of the wildest parts of the Wyoming Big Horn basin.
The social centre of the Grass Creek field is Ohio Camp, a little settlement where the Ohio Oil company maintains headquarters for its employees.
Bunkhouses, each consisting of six small apartments, are the sleeping quarters provided for the unmarried male employees of the oil company.
Foight occupied apartment No. 1 of one of these bunkhouses. Four other oil field workers occupied other sections of the bunkhouse.
Unlike other employees Lampitt did not have quarters in a bunkhouse. He occupied a small cabin, set apart from the rest of the camp.

Grace Lee, typical western beauty, was employed as caretaker of the bunkhouses.
All the unmarried males, including Lampitt, admired her, but all stood aside when it became known she favored Foight's suit—all save Lampitt.
Lampitt persisted in his suit, even when it became camp news that there would be a wedding with Miss Lee and Foight as principals.
Miss Lee complained to Foight of Lampitt's attentions to her. Foight promised to settle the matter with his rival.
Then—
Early one morning while Foight and his four bunkhouse companions slept the bunkhouse was rent by a terrible explosion.
Foight and his dog, sleeping beside him, were torn to pieces.
The other four bunkhouse occupants died in agony.
There was no sign of life around Lampitt's cabin. In front stood his automobile, loaded with food and supplies as if in preparation for a journey.
Sheriff Holdrege knocked at Lampitt's door. Lampitt came to the door, rubbing his eyes as if just awakened. He said he had not heard the deafening explosion.
Investigation by Sheriff Holdrege showed the Ohio Oil company's powder magazine had been looted and a quantity of high explosive stolen.
The magazine had been forced open with the aid of a heavy bar.
This is the evidence on which the state hopes to send Lampitt to his death.
One—The alleged finding in Lampitt's automobile of a heavy bar of the kind used in opening the powder magazine.
Two—Automobile tracks which the state says led from the powder magazine to Lampitt's shack.
Three—Lampitt's alleged skill at making trap guns and bombs for killing mountain lion and other beasts.
Lampitt denies the charges against him.

JURY GIVES VERDICT FOR T. M. OSBORNE

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 8.—The jury in the case of Thomas Mott Osborne, against whom Mrs. Julie Atillane Duffy brought suit for $25,000 for alienation of the affections of her former husband, William J. Duffy, last night returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.
Mrs. Duffy charged that it was through Osborne's influence that Duffy sought and obtained an annulment of his marriage with her on the grounds of irregularities in the marriage license.

Duffy, who subsequently married Helen Healey, was a member of the naval guard at Portsmouth Naval Prison when Osborne was commandant there.
The case went to the jury in United States district court at 4.45 yesterday afternoon after Judge George P. Morris had charged the jury for half an hour following 100 minutes apiece for the closing arguments by Judge Ernest L. Guntill of Portsmouth for the plaintiff and George T. Hughes, Dover, for the defense.

It was the first case of the kind ever tried in this court and has been progressing since Jan. 31.

POPE EMBRACES CARD. O'CONNELL

Pontiff Praises America—Deeply Interested in Arms Conference

ROME, Feb. 8 (By Associated Press).—Pope Pius XI yesterday let it be known that he was profoundly distressed and disappointed that America was not represented at the conclave which elected him Monday. Putting his arms around Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, the new pontiff said: "It was a great personal sorrow that you were not present."

The Holy Father was at pains to explain to the American Cardinal that the question of prolonging the conclave had been discussed seriously by the cardinals, but that the constitution was so rigid they were unable to see their way out.

Hoped Cardinal Would Arrive

"Every member of the conclave,"

said Pope Pius, "wanted the final ballot delayed so that you could participate. But that would have contravened the terms of the constitution; therefore, I was voted to go ahead."

In conversation with the Associated Press correspondent yesterday, Cardinal O'Connell said that the pontiff spoke in most affectionate terms of America and manifested the deepest interest in the Washington conference for the limitation of armaments.

"The action of your government in averting war in the Pacific," said the Holy Father to Cardinal O'Connell, "is worthy of the praise of the whole world."

"I was happy to see your peace-loving country take the first step toward amelioration of this monstrous evil of armament," the pontiff said. "Take my illustrious and talented predecessor, I have unbounded admiration for the energy and charity and the great heart of your people."

Then, laying his hand on the American cardinal's shoulder, he added slowly: "You Americans are young in years, but old in wisdom, worldly prudence and foresight. Your innate qualities of fairness, justice and peace, your great moral and spiritual stability and your infinite riches make you the hope and anchor of the whole world."

Cardinal O'Connell told the correspondent the Holy Father was much like an American. Amiability, modesty and sweetness of manner were his dominant traits, and his manner was most democratic, the cardinal added: "He is a man of the common people and has all the human qualities which made the world love Pius X. He has a cultivated mind, an alert manner and discerning judgment."

Discussing the probable policy of the new pontiff regarding relations between the church and state, the cardinal said that the whole world could be sure he would follow a course of pacification and conciliation.

"He told me with emphasis that he wanted to be of service to all humanity in re-establishing peace, order and mutual trust in the world, and that he would dedicate the rest of his life to this holy mission," the cardinal added.

Cardinal Vannutelli, dean of the Sacred College and many of the other cardinals, in expressing their regrets and disappointment that Cardinal O'Connell had not arrived in time, said they had urged upon the pontiff the imperative need for a change in the constitution in order to permit attendance at the conclave of cardinals living in distant countries.

In speaking of this, Cardinal O'Connell said: "I am touched by all these expressions of regret and apology, but of course they do not lessen the lamentable fact that I was not here."

The cardinal denied a story published in Rome newspapers that he had brought $2,000,000 from America as a gift to the Vatican.

"I didn't bring a cent," he said. "I had enough to do to bring sufficient money to pay the expenses of such a long and arduous trip."

The question as to whether the conclave should await the arrival of Cardinal O'Connell before the announcement of the pope's election was made caused a more distinct division in the Sacred college than was met on any ballot during the election, it is reported.

The foreign prelates, except the representation of one country (which was an allied power during the war) were solidly in favor of delaying the announcement until the appearance of the Boston cardinal.

Three Italian cardinals, including Ratti, who is now pope, agreed to this, but were overruled by the majority. The French cardinals, for whom Mersier, although a Belgian, was spokesman, were the leading supporters of the plan for delaying the announcement until Monday afternoon.

Cardinal Mercier, when seen by an Associated Press correspondent, said: "Obedience to the rules of the conclave forbids me saying what took place inside the locked doors, but you may say that I was, I am, and will be, in favor of Americans being present at the pope's election. I think that the law calling for convening the conclave 10 days after the demise of the pontiff should be amended to read 20 days, so as to insure not only participation of the United States and Canadian cardinals, but also the South American."

The correspondent is informed that the three German cardinals strongly supported the French and Belgian attitude that America must be represented.

All the foreign cardinals were greatly impressed by the linguistic ability of the new pontiff yesterday, when he greeted each of them in his respective tongue.

Cardinal O'Connell yesterday gave the Associated Press correspondent the following message to the American people:

"A new viceroy of Christ has been chosen to lead the Holy Roman Catholic church, and with a thought of regret for the departed pontiff, the world will acclaim the election of the new sovereign."

Sees Hand of Providence

"Mundane circumstances over which I had no control prevented America, in my humble person, from being represented at the conclave, but the designs of Providence are inscrutable and infallible. Peace on earth and good will to all, which from the foundation of the church has been the Vatican's guiding thought, will be continued. The Holy Father believes that the greatest formula for the present evils of the world is the application of these principles, which were sanctified by the life and death of Christ."

Humility, reinforced with unflinching courage; charity and tolerance toward mankind; confidence in human nature and faith, is and will yet prove the world's salvation.

May Allow More Time

Prolongation of the time—now ten days—between the demise of the pope and the date of convening the Sacred college for the election of a new pope to a period which has not yet been definitely decided upon, but which will permit not only the United States but Canada and South America to be represented, is the first question which will be discussed at the first consistory called by Pius XI.

Cardinal Laconi, archbishop of Rheims, is sponsor for the proposal, so that henceforth there shall be no such disappointment as greeted Cardinal O'Connell upon his arrival in Rome yesterday. The Sacred college in general has felt deeply that the announcement of the election of the pope before the arrival of the American cardinals might be interpreted in the United States as a slight.

Almost immediately after his elevation to the pontificate, Pius XI sent

Report of Death Denied

ROME, Feb. 8 (By Associated Press).—It was reliably stated yesterday that Cardinal Marini, who was suffering from influenza when he entered the conclave, had died in the Vatican before the election of the pope.

A dispatch from Rome to the London Times Monday night stated that Cardinal Marini, who was suffering from influenza when he entered the conclave, had died in the Vatican before the election of the pope.

Why New Pope Took Name Pius

ROME, Feb. 8 (By the Associated Press).—The reason for his choice of the name "Pius" was explained by the new pontiff yesterday to Cardinal Laconi.

"I was born under a Pius. I came to Rome under a Pius. Pius is the name of peace—then Pius shall be my name," he said.

to unknown destinations. Fifteen arrests have been made in connection with the kidnappings.

The raiders are believed to have come from Counties Cavan and Longford, near the border. The forces known as the "B Specials" are being mobilized today in Tyrone and Fermanagh and rushed to the scenes of the kidnappings. The Ulster government has announced its intention of taking drastic measures.

Among those kidnapped was Major Murray, son of Anketell Murray, head of the Tyrone Orangemen. The major stoutly resisted and finally was wounded. Former High Sheriff Carson of County Fermanagh, whose house was raided, resisted single-handed for an hour until he was wounded and carried off in a motor car.

The house of Major Moore, at Belleek, Fermanagh, was similarly attacked, but Major Moore succeeded in escaping.

A merchant named Elliott at Enniskillen, fired on the raiders when his house was attacked and it is believed he wounded one of them. The merchant himself escaped.

Attacks were also made on the houses of former County Inspector McGuire and various other prominent Unionists in the vicinity of Enniskillen.

A party of what are known as "A Specials" was ambushed near Newtown Butler, last evening by a large party of armed men. Casualties were sustained on both sides. The residences of other constables were visited and a number of the constables were kidnapped and carried over the border.

At noon today, Registration Inspector Doonan, prominent Unionist of Newtown Butler, was taken to the hospital suffering from gunshot wounds.

To Test Constitutionality of Coal Tax

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 8.—The Concord chamber of commerce today made public resolutions and a letter sent to Gov. Albert O. Brown, asking him, in behalf of the state of New Hampshire, to join with the other New England states and New York in testing in the highest courts constitutionality of the Pennsylvania law imposing a tax on anthracite coal mined in that state. This tax, it was claimed, will impose a burden of millions of dollars upon the people of the eastern states and was seribed as most unjust.

WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Case Against Man Charged With Receiving Stolen Property is Dismissed

Daniel F. Shay, charged with receiving stolen property, in connection with the theft of four automobile tires from a car in the Boston & Maine railroad yard on October 23, 1920, was found not guilty in district court yesterday afternoon by Judge Frederick A. Taylor.

When the larceny of the tires was disposed of in district court in November, 1920, two of the three defendants, Pratt and Scoble by name, were found guilty and fined, while the third defendant, Daniel F. Shay, was found guilty of receiving stolen property and fined $25. The case was not pressed by the district attorney, and the railroad company brought another charge of receiving stolen property against him.

One of the main points of evidence at the first trial and again yesterday was a statement, said to have been drawn up by Officer Smith of the B. & M. railroad and signed by Pratt, Scoble, Shay and Perry, the latter a man whose automobile had been engaged to remove the property to a garage on Main street. In this statement Scoble, Pratt and Shay told of the larceny of the tires.

At yesterday's trial, neither Officer Smith nor Pratt were present. Lieut. Martin, member of the local police department, Frank W. Brown of the B. & M. railroad, and Joseph Perry, an employee of the railroad, testified for the prosecution, and Scoble and the defendant, Shay, for the defense.

GENOA ANNOUNCEMENT TO BE MADE FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—America's response to the invitation of the allied supreme council to be represented at the Genoa Economic conference probably will be announced Friday. It was said yesterday at the White House. It was stated officially that delay in framing the American reply had not been occasioned by any connection with legislation for funding the debt of foreign nations to this country.

No indication of the nature of the American government's response to the invitation was given yesterday. The belief has been expressed in official circles that attendance of delegates actually representing the United States at Genoa might be dependent upon the scope of the proposed discussions. It was suggested in some quarters that last-minute developments might determine this country's attitude.

It was the belief in some official circles that the reply would be in effect an acceptance.

Reparations Issue Inevitable

Matters likely to be discussed at the Genoa conference were reviewed extensively last night by the Federal Reserve board in its monthly bulletin. According to the board, Russian and German questions are "practically inevitable elements" in the existing European economic situation.

The issues at stake on these points, however, the board declared, were "political" rather than economic, and the belief was advanced that any plan for rehabilitation of Russia, Germany, Austria and Southern Europe generally would not be likely to succeed, because of natural limitations.

The board further says the reparations problem has been considered an almost insoluble element in any discussion of European questions at large.

The board discussed a possible extension of the Wiesbaden agreement plan, under which payments could be made in kind in lieu of cash, but added that "payments in kind will not, however, ultimately solve the French situation, because of the large French public debt."

Must Guarantee Fiscal Reform

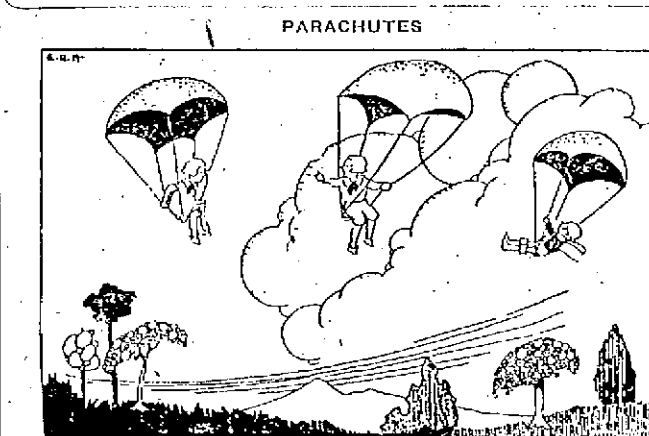

For credit rehabilitation, many complex problems must have to be solved, in connection with reparations payments, with domestic and foreign indebtedness and with the effect of national policies upon the concentration of gold in this country.

Toucheing on the inflation existing in Europe, the board maintained that any artificial methods for controlling exchange operations would be of no permanent value. The United States, the board declared, "has an interest in the introduction of some form of gold standard, because the abnormal concentration of gold in this country is present in a 'gravely dangerous' manner."

"No proposals of any sort should, however," the board asserted, "be entertained until far-reaching financial reform have been secured from the countries that require aid. Otherwise, the assistance would be detrimental to the extent that it would lead to the postponement of the necessary fiscal reforms which must be made preliminary to the rehabilitation of currency systems and the re-establishment of stabilized exchange relations."

Adventures of the Twins

A LITTLE BREEZE CAME ALONG AND GENTLY, VERY GENTLY, THEY WERE LIFTED UP INTO THE AIR.

There was funny little old Buskins sitting on a fuzzy dandelion, smoking his pipe and asking the twins if they would like to go to Thistle-down Land. You don't have to guess very hard to find out what the children answered. There, I know you've guessed already.

But a thought struck Nancy. "Oh, I forgot. We can't go, Mr. Buskins. We're not allowed near the apple-tree since Nick ate a green apple and got sick. So we can't get to the magical elevator."

"Don't I know it!" nodded Buskins soberly. "That's why I'm here. You see there are more ways than one of getting to the Land-of-up-in-the-air. This dandelion puff was just about to start for that part of it called Thistle-down Land and I thought you could be passengers. What do you say?"

You've got your Magic Green Shoes on and can wish yourselves as small as you like."

"Of course," laughed Nick. "I'll be lots of fun. I've always wondered where the dandelion puffs traveled to."

"There's only one thing," warned Buskins. "We can't go together. As soon as this puff leaves its stem, it separates into a hundred tiny parachutes. Each of us will have to sit atop of a different one, but don't be frightened, they are all going to the same place and we'll soon be together again."

With that he knocked the ashes out of his pipe and put it into his pocket. Nancy and Nick wished themselves almost as small as nothing at all, and hopped up on the dandelion puff beside their fairy friend, each on a tiny little parachute.

No sooner were they nicely settled than a little breeze came along and gently, very gently, they were lifted up into the air and were sailing smoothly toward the far away clouds."

Teacher Dismissed for Flogging Pupil

GROVELAND, Feb. 8.—Stanley P. Ladd, chairman of the school board, today announced that after an investigation of the flogging of Constance Pepin, a 12-year-old pupil, it had been decided to dismiss Lewis B. Coombs, a teacher. The Pepin girl and her sister have said Constance was struck more than 100 times by Coombs while another teacher held her. The statement adds that Miss Ruth Sargent, principal of the school would not be dismissed because, although she consented to the punishment and to a certain extent shared in the responsibility she did not strike the child.

CUTICURA HEALS WHITE BLISTERS

On Arms, Face and Chest. Itched and Burned.

"A rash broke out on my arms and spread to my face and chest. After a while it took the form of white blisters. The itching and burning were unbearable and my clothing aggravated the eruptions. When I scratched the affected parts the blisters would burst and the skin become inflamed. I found it impossible to sleep."

"I read an advertisement about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Margaret Sullivan, 36 Nassau St., New York, R. I., Aug. 20, 1921.

Beautifully keep your skin by daily use of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum. Sample Pack Free by Mail. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass. Sold every where. Soap 25c, Ointment 50c and Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shares without price.

A UNION OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Healthy Housewife---Happy Home

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Form Many

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of housework cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done.

Many women struggle along for years suffering from some form of female trouble that makes their lives miserable and their homes far from happy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound and again afterwards. It helped them—let it help you.

Had Nervous Spells

Horatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 95 pounds when my husband's mother persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do."—Mrs. JIM REARICK, Horatio, Arkansas.

COLDS

"Pape's Cold Compound" Breaks any Cold in a Few Hours

Instant Relief! Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks any cold right up. The first dose opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages of head; stops nose running; relieves headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Insist upon Pape's.

WE SHOULD STAY OUT

While it is not certain that the United States will not participate in the Genoa conference, we believe a decision should be made in the negative without further delay. In the first place, it is difficult to determine what the scope of this Genoa conference will be. The motives behind the conference are known only to those with whom it originated. Representatives of Soviet Russia are to attend; and should the United States be a party to the conference, we might find ourselves placed under obligations to the Bolshevik regime, which, so far as can be judged, cannot be relied upon to carry out the terms of any definite agreement. It is doubtful true, that the Bolsheviks have nearly reached the limit of their power and endurance without outside assistance. Capital was contributed to be used for the benefit of the whole country, but at present, the gold reserve in Russia has been exhausted, and Lenin is unable to secure supplies from other countries on credit. Undoubtedly, he will seek some basis of credit or of barter at the Genoa conference under which he can exchange raw materials from Russia for the finished products of other nations.

Premier Lloyd George will undoubtedly unfold some plan for general adoption that may help the weaker nations to revive their industries and to re-establish channels of trade that have been practically paralyzed by the operations of war.

The countries involved have much to gain from the formation of a uniform policy and closer business relations, but the United States is too far removed to derive any benefit from any such policy. It is true that our government should do something to mitigate the tax burdens that are pressing down upon the industries of the country and forcing capital into idleness. The taxation system is undoubtedly one of the main causes of the present industrial depression and consequent unemployment.

The tariff is another problem that calls for prompt settlement, for the reason that while the business interests are held in the state of suspense they cannot be expected to embark upon any new enterprises or to look very far ahead. If the republican leaders tackle these problems as they did those that were disposed of at the arms conference, they may achieve practical results.

What we need now is an American conference of the captains of industry to devise ways and means to overcome the present business stagnation.

We need an industrial conference at Washington. In calling the economic conference at Genoa, the European nations are looking to their own interests. It is high time that we should give some earnest effort to the economic problems at home. We are not the keepers of the European nations.

TO OUTLAW HYPOCRISY

Is no one in wide, wide America to be safe? Now comes a law-maker with a bill aimed at reformers, uplifters and the truly good folks who would have us all mend our ways. Including in that category of the worldly all who live and breathe and call themselves humans. From Albany, capital of a great state and also seat of many freak laws that have been aimed at men and women who would enjoy some freedom of life, comes an "act to amend the penal law in relation to the crime of hypocrisy." This is the title of a bill introduced by an assemblyman from Manhattan, who would classify all uplift and reform lobbyists as "lawbreakers."

The word hypocrisy is defined: "Any person who for pay, hire, reward or in anticipation of any pay, reward, gift or other valuable thing or consideration, shall publicly advocate, advertise or support; or any person who as sponsor of such, shall solicit funds, gifts, contributions or any other valuable thing for the public advertising, support or sponsorship of any legislative measures calculated to infringe upon and restrain the free exercise of personal liberty, shall be guilty of hypocrisy, punishable as a misdemeanor; and on conviction thereof, sentence shall not be suspended."

The reasons for this bill are explained by the assemblyman in detail, as follows: "The professional accelerators of public opinion turn from prohibition to blue laws, from false moral issues to anti-bolshevik crusades. It is the same breed all the time. Twenty years ago they agitated against rights in burlesque shows, now they want to cover the legs of barefoot dancers. The time is at hand to stop this legislative epidemic. My bill, if passed, will rid us of the paid professional reformers. The introduction of it may help to bring us back to sane respect for the rights of individual citizens."

It is probable that this bill, along with many others too numerous to mention, will go the long, long road to the legislative waste paper bin. Albany has never been famous as the home of patriots and blue-law enforcement experts, even as a municipality. And it is not likely that the New York senate will take the assemblyman's "hypocrisy" bill seriously even now, with reformers still on the warpath everywhere.

THE BONUS BILL

President Harding and the republican congress are in a peculiar quandary at the present time over the bonus bill. It is well known that the president made a definite promise to bring forward a bonus bill for the service men and now with the November elections threatening republican disaster, it appears that the leaders have determined to pass such a bill at any cost. They have been warned by Secretary Mellon; however, that the bill will call for the imposition of additional taxes where the demands are already excessive. President Harding is fully aware of this and has but a choice of two evils. He will be blamed for violating his promise if he does not put through the bonus measure and he will also be blamed for violating the party pledge of economy by passing a measure that calls for an appropriation of perhaps $2,000,000,000.

CHECKERS ON SUNDAY

While efforts are being made to revise the blue Sunday laws, some are moving in the opposite direction. Before the legislature at the present time, there is a bill to legalize checker-playing on Sunday. This may appear to be a simple proposition; but it brings up a great many other questions of a similar kind. For example, if golf be legal on Sunday why not other outdoor sports, and if people who want the outdoor recreation are privileged, why not allow those who have no desire for that kind of recreation to amuse themselves by indoor games such as checkers. And if checkers, why not chess and cards in what or forty divers? Thus the bill will bring up many side issues that seem to have little or no connection with it.

The Lord's day league is opposed to this bill and all others legalizing sport or amusement of any kind on Sunday. At present it is undoubtedly a fact, that those who want to indulge in a game of checkers on Sunday, do so without much dread; but if caught by the police, they are liable to prosecution.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The enemies of the daylight saving law are out to have it repealed. We believe that much benefit is derived from this law if only by inducing the people to get up earlier in the mornings so that they may have an hour or more of daylight for recreation or work in the fields or gardens before sunset. The daylight savings helps the home gardener and it prevents the waste of the glorious dawn and sunrise to which most people were strangers until the daylight saving law was put in force.

This law is also beneficial to the public health as it gives the people time to get out into the open. The farmers are the chief beneficiaries against the law; but most of them have adjusted their working hours to the new conditions so as to overcome any inconvenience that might result.

NO WAGE CUT

Yesterday The Sun announced that the American Woolen company would not cut wages, and today the news is given out by the Boston papers. That is one encouraging feature of the textile situation and yet it has caused some surprise among millmen for the reason that the price of wool has jumped upward and the selling price of woolen cloth remains stationary.

Some of the other woolen factories are hard pressed by adverse economic conditions and are trying to tide over the dull period by curtailing. The announcement of the American Woolen company may be the harbinger of an early improvement in the mill situation in general.

RAILROAD RATES

Walter D. Hines, former director general of railroads, in the hearing before the Interstate Commerce board, stated that the earnings of the railroads are less than they should be and that the high rates have not been the cause of the falling off in business. He did not say what he thought as to whether lower rates would increase the volume of business. The general belief is, that the roads would do much more business if the rates were not so high. The business of the railroads will never reach its old time volume while the present rates are in force.

Mayor Curley's inaugural address was brief, modest and to the point. Unless the people demand that he shall become governor before his present term of four years expires, he promises to serve the city faithfully during that time, and to see that Boston gets a dollar's worth for every dollar expended. That is a good resolution and it will mean much for Boston if Mayor Curley fulfills his promise.

James Larkin, said to have been elected to a soviet position in Moscow, was one of the few socialists in Ireland before coming to this country. Socialists in Ireland are about as rare as black swans. Larkin made a specialty of stirring up labor troubles and was driven out of Ireland for that reason.

And high above all the rest in the new Germany today is the name of one Hugo Stinnes—declared by European diplomats to be even greater than all the Rockefeller and Morgans combined. And world trade is Stinnes' goal of conquest.

When in doubt in Washington, join the agricultural lobby and keep ten all guessing, seems to be the latest motto for a number of senators and representatives who had rather back on the fence than play ball.

Any radical cut in mill wages with the cost of living as at present, will cause greater distress and injury to business by reducing the ability of the people to buy what they want.

Putting real teeth in some of the new banking laws may help to prevent any future juggling of bank entrusted funds of the Boston variety now happily pretty nearly extinct.

SEEN AND HEARD

You've got to be a person of good breeding if you can take five blues at a poultry show.

Wonder what some of those so-called "mad" dogs really think of the human race anyhow?

This country apparently cannot isolate itself from the generally accepted "loam" our neighbors overseas think.

To be really new, take your "Esquimaux" at a real poppy-head table and have her with you.

Guido books of Cuba and the West Indies are selling for 75 cents a piece and you're interested in social customs down that way?

And to think that they used to call that gay business of the old era hand held firemen companies "vamps!"

Letting friend wife run the house on the budget plan is all right, but we'd hate to have her start anything with one of Dawes' new brooms.

Ordering From Sample

A soldier entered a restaurant and ordered a beefsteak. He waited 10 minutes or so. Then a waitress brought a large plate in the center of which was a very small portion of beefsteak. The soldier turned it over and examined it carefully. Then he said pleasantly: "Yes, that's the sort of thing; bring me some."

An Ingenious Infant

The father of an ingenious infant is a retired mathematical professor, whose two hobbies are gardening and keeping poultry. Most of his time has been spent at a mysterious complaint. One day the professor found his little daughter planting feathers in neat rows behind the cabbage patch. "What on earth are you doing?" he asked.

That Was Different

"I never saw the equal of those Jagshys next door," said Mr. Biddle. "They are always wanting to borrow something. I honestly believe I've lent them everything in the house except the piano and our twin beds." "I'm sorry you are so wrought up," said Mrs. Biddle. "Mr. Jagshy has just sent over to know if you have a few empty bottles you could spare, pint or quart size." "Out of the way, woman! I'll take them over myself."

The Moderate Drinker

"The moderate drinker," said William H. Anderson, the prohibition leader of New York, "is usually some such type as Peleg Mannebaum. Old Peleg Mannebaum lives in his parlor with a demijohn of home brew beside him. He tossed off a couple of glasses of the stuff and proceeded to lecture his son on the evils of drink. He said: 'The best fits of moderate drinking. Never drink too much, old Peleg concluded. He, a moderate drinker, like me, boy! But, father,' said the young man, 'how can I tell when I've drunk too much?' Old Peleg Mannebaum pointed out of the window. 'Do you see those two women standing on the corner?' he said. 'Well, if you saw four women there you'd have drunk too much,' said the son. 'But, father,' said the young man, 'there's only one woman there.'"

Love Will Come

She will come in April glory. She will come in May's soft, smiling, bright, smiling. While we dream the hours away; She will come in memories haunting To the old as to the young— Love, the mortal and immortal, With the dawn-dew on her tongue.

In a moment's light transient, In a flash of thought or word, She will dance as joy attendant, She will spend the day attendant, She will come in June's elation, In the breath of moon's asleep; She, the daintiest and the darest, Like a star upon the deep.

Born of mist and formed of vapor, Puffed, empty, faithless, true— She will come, and we will worship, She will come and we will adore, Out of seas and out of tempests, Out of tumult she will call, And our hearts enslaved shall answer To her whispers virginal.

She will come in lightness swaying, She will come in lilac lanes With her hands in moon-white playing, Her heart the old refrain. She will come and we will sing, Of old wars, vain words, regrets; We shall all with her and chatter Till the very soul forgets.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

One of the best known conductors on the Lowell-Tucker railroad line is "Jim" Boyle, who has been passing tickets for a good many years. Always genial, very accommodating and always looking out for passengers, he has a habit of leaving parcels in their seats. This conductor is one of the most efficient on the old New Haven lines. Not long ago a passenger getting on at a station outside the city dropped a valuable connecting ticket. The conductor was notified, and he made it his business the next day to inquire of the passenger about the matter. The ticket was recovered, and sometime afterward, when the conductor and the country commuter happened to meet, the ticket was turned over to its owner. A little service like this counts a great deal nowadays, and the man about town is Boyle's earnest friend. But at along the Framingham road, you will find thousands of men and women who know this railroad official intimately and "swear by him." Conductor Boyle, another genial ticket puncher, now handles the train arriving at the Lowell station each night at 6:58 o'clock.

I am informed that the recent change in train schedules on the New Haven road running out of Lowell, resulted directly in reducing the number of trains on various divisions of the line, because of poor traffic. The cancellations affected numerous lines out Worcester, New London, Wilbraham and Franklin, way. Some trains, it is said, had been run at one o'clock and the last one was finally cancelled at the end of the line. The changes affected Lowell only in time of departures and arrivals of certain trains on the Old Colony division.

The Man About Town was informed today that for the first time in years, Lowell patrons of the Old Colony road now have "through service" to New Bedford. Formerly, trains did not connect and patrons changing at Mansfield, were obliged to wait half a day or so for the train which they wanted to go through to the "Whaling City." Lowell folks can now board the 6:35 morning train and reach New Bedford in good season, connections being made at Mansfield for the first time.

I am in receipt of an old-fashioned almanac (not the "Farmers'") which gives "weather forecasts" for the month of February that are "interesting." I find for the period between the first and fourth of the month, a "cold wave," which hit the actual conditions on Saturday and Sunday pretty nearly right. For the period between the fifth and the eighth of the month, "mild" weather is predicted. A "storm period" is coming, we read, between the ninth and the thirteenth day. Between the thirteenth and the sixteenth, a "cold wave" is to appear again, we are told, then follows a "mild" era of about three days. Between the twentieth and the twenty-third of the month, we are warned of a "severe storm and danger period." The latter part of February, it is predicted, will be cold and fair in the central states, cloudy in the east, with a storm coming on in the northwest. What your calendar says, the weather prognosticator hits it!

History informs us that conditions 100 years ago in the manufacture of cotton cloth were somewhat similar in many respects to present day conditions. A century ago it was a serious question whether America could compete with England in the manufacture of cotton. Today the northern mills have to meet the competition of southern mills, where labor is cheaper and working hours longer and general mill expenses lower, the southern mills being nearer the cotton and coal also being cheaper. One hundred years ago in favor of England were cheaper labor, greater capital, superior skill and established reputation. And yet in favor of the Lowell cotton mill interests a century ago were cheaper cotton, abundant water power and the superior enterprise of a people in the vigor of youth, as history tells us.

Lowell, of course, obtained its name from that enterprising American who has been called the "father of the American cotton industry," Francis Cabot Lowell. This gentleman seems to have been about the first man to inspire in the minds of enterprising Americans the full conviction of the feasibility of competing with England-made goods. The power loom was improved by the skill of Mr. Lowell, and in the year 1814, he introduced into the cotton manufacturing of the town of Woburn, the success of his experiment in that place on the Charles river, led to the construction of the mills in Lowell, for the Merrimack river had abundant waters and splendid falls which, of course, promised inexhaustible power. The Merrimack Manufacturing Co., whose history is actually interwoven with the early history of Lowell, was incorporated in 1822 with a capital of $600,000. Kirk Boott was appointed first treasurer in that year, and Francis C. Lowell was the next (1837). Eben Chadwick (1843), Arthur T. Lyman (1877), Augustus Lowell (1877), Charles H. Dalton (1877), Howard Stockton (1889), and so on up the line to 1922.

May Postpone Genoa Conference

LONDON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Official confirmation was given today of the report that a note had been received from the French government making strong representations for the postponement for three months of the Genoa economic conference. The British government's reply has not yet been formulated.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The French foreign office said today it was considered quite likely that it would be necessary to postpone the proposed Genoa economic conference.

First Step Toward Real and Lasting Peace

TOKIO, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The agreements reached at the Washington conference mark the first step toward establishment of a "real and lasting peace," with the possibility of abolition of armaments, Premier Baron Takahashi told the house of peers yesterday. "The imperial government does not pretend that the conference was an unqualified success as viewed from an individual standpoint," he said. "It does believe with the other powers that the present agreements are the first step toward realization of a real and lasting peace and that such agreements will grow in the future even into an understanding for the total abolition of defense equipments."

Japan Halts Work on Battleships

TOKIO, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The navy department has ordered the various dockyards to stop construction work on the eight battleships and battle cruisers now on the ways which are to be scrapped in accordance with the Washington conference agreement. The battleships are the Kaga, Kii, Owari and Tosa; the battle cruisers are the Atago, Akagi, Amagi and Takao. Construction of auxiliary craft set for the fiscal year 1924-1925 will be advanced to the present in order to afford employment for the dockyard workers, it is announced by the chief of naval construction.

90 Day Vigil in Iceberg-Infested Waters

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The staunch little cutter Seneca of the United States coast guard sails today on the first leg of a 90 day vigil among the iceberg-infested waters off Newfoundland and the Grand Banks. The Seneca is equipped with instruments for sighting bergs, for detecting their presence by changes in water temperature, for taking soundings in the regions where bergs are found, and for broadcasting warnings by radio.

6 P. C. Cut For Railway Clerks

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Feb. 8.—A wage reduction which will average about 6 per cent, will take effect on about 400 clerks in the employ of the Central Vermont Railway on the next pay day. The cut was agreed to at a conference of the officials of the clerks' union with the officials of the railway. The agreement was between the parties interested in preference to referring the matter to the United States Railway Labor board. The clerks received a cut of 12 1/2 per cent on July 1 of last year. During the last three years the increases averaged about 50 per cent. All clerks in the employ of the railroad are affected from Montreal to New London, and all branch lines.

10 P. C. Reduction in Freight Rates

BANGOR, Me., Feb. 8.—The Bangor & Aroostook railroad today announced a 10 per cent reduction in freight rates on potatoes, apples and hay in carload lots, effective April 1. The reduction will apply only to shipments originating on the Bangor & Aroostook and destined to other stations on the same or connecting roads and will terminate June 30, the date when the 10 per cent reduction by other roads expires. In announcing the reduction, President Todd stated that the tremendous increase in state, municipal and federal taxes was the main reason why the reduction could not become effective prior to April 1. Figures were given showing that the total tax for this year will be over $100,000 greater than that paid in 1917. Announcement was also made today of a reduction in demurrage rates on empty cars to $1.50 a day.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem
FRIENDLY ARCTIC

The Arctic is a friendly place. Which is delicious food. Although for nearly half the year The night is never done; But you get used to it in time And really think it fun!

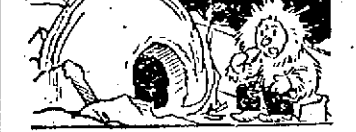

In summertime mosquitoes bite With energy and vim And frequently in winter days You freeze each separate limb; But things like that, says Stefansson, Seem friendly-like to him!

You live on seal-meat and on fat Which is delicious food. And now and then you feed, perhaps, Upon a polar bear. (Unless, of course, he feeds on you— Which sometimes happens there!)

You float around on cakes of ice Through wild and frigid seas, While your thermometer reveals Some sixty-five degrees Below the well known zero mark— Excuse me, if you please.

For though to Mr. Stefansson Such weather may seem fine, And though the Arctic be his friend I easily agree That if the Arctic's like he says It ain't no friend of mine.

TO MAKE SURVEY OF SHADE TREES

An immediate survey of all shade trees in the city that seem to constitute a public menace will be made by Superintendent John W. Kernan acting upon directions given him last night at a meeting of the park commission.

The commission feels that many trees are in a dangerous condition as the result of the ravages of winter and particularly the heavy storm of November last and despite the fact that the board's recent request for an immediate appropriation of $15,000 for necessary tree surgery has not been granted, it is the intention of the commission to warn the city government of conditions and the danger to life and limb unless the tree question is handled at once.

Wherever possible, Superintendent Kernan will take photographs to show the actual condition of some of the larger and older trees and when complete that data of the survey will be presented to the government in the form of an urgent recommendation.

Make Every Meal a Perfect Feast

Tanlac Makes Each Bite a New Delight

When your digestive system is working efficiently and smoothly, extracting from your food abundant stores of vital energy and pulling up a reserve force of vigor to meet any emergency, every bite is eaten with keen zest and appreciation. If your meals are not a real event, if you do not approach the table with organ and through ample secretion of digestive fluids. It then promotes an energetic action of all the bowel muscles and glands and enables the food to pass through the digestive canal in the normal time. Each of the thousands of little glands whose duty it is to pick up nourishment from the food and send this to all parts of the body are stimulated to their utmost. The whole result is that food is taken care of without distress in any sort in such manner as to derive the utmost benefit from it.

If your appetite is not keen with you, if you are under weight, nervous, irritable, and lack energy, give Tanlac the chance to show you that it can work a miracle in your condition, as it has in so many thousands of other cases. If you are despondent, glum, and with little taste for, and enjoy ment of life, try Tanlac and no doubt you will see the clouds of gloom and away under the sunshine of health.

You are entitled to be healthy, vigorous, efficient and happy. Give yourself the chance to become so as thousands of others have, by taking Tanlac.

Get Tanlac from your druggist this very day. Why wait for tomorrow when Tanlac—and health—await you today?

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative; by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; A. D. Fells, Chelmsford, Mass.; Shaw's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town—Adv.

Orders German Strikers Back to Work

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The executive committee of the Railwaymen's union has ordered a resumption of work beginning tomorrow afternoon.

A Berlin despatch last night announced that the men would resume work on condition that the government refrain from reprisals in the form of wholesale discharges. The government promised that regular workers would be reinstated.

COUGH SO BAD THAT HE SPAT BLOOD

Right Lung So Sore He Could Not Lie on Right Side

Mr. Thomas Nickerson, formerly of 21 Flint street, tells how he was cured of a racking cough and sore lungs by using Allen's Lung Healer.

He says: "I had a bad case of pneumonia, which left me with an awful cough. My right lung was so sore that I could not lie on my right side at all. After I had a bad spell of coughing I would spit up blood. Having used Allen's Lung Healer before, I began to use it again and I am thankful I did. I took three and a half bottles and am glad to say I was entirely cured. I can't say too much for it as a great lung healer."

For the last three days of the week, starting with matinee on Thursday, will be "The Night Horse," Goldwyn's special with Lon Chaney and Leatrice Joy in the stellar roles, and Miss Maria Prevost in her newest and best creation, "A Parisian Scandal."

"The Night Horse" is a thrilling picture showing the power of a leader of the underworld who reaches into the very halls of justice. Political heroes are the pawns of this power. Lon Chaney's characterization of the principal role is said to be his very best screen effort. The original screen of this story was subject to revision by the New York censor.

"The Parisian Scandal" with pretty Miss Prevost as the star, will give variety and extreme pleasure to the patrons. It's a spicy, interesting screen story of present-day conditions in big cities.

comes as an appreciation of the Art association's efforts.

A manuscript with a prize Chinese play from Purdue university, Indiana, has arrived in Lowell. This play was given at the western conference of Chinese students last year, and the students of the Textile school are looking forward to presenting it themselves on the night of the fete. The students also wish to present a selection from Chinese classical drama. It is also planned to have Chinese pantomime during the general dancing at the fete. Happy surprises are planned by several groups under the direction of Miss Barbara Brown, Miss Elizabeth Talbot, Miss Katherine Nesmith, Miss Ruth Green, Mrs. Mary Williams and Miss Louise Hall. Mrs. Williams and Miss Josephine Oskington are preparing six special dances.

Announcement is made by Mrs. Mary Williams of 32 Mt. Washington street that those who buy tickets may secure costumes easily from a customer who will be present at the Whistler house during the week preceding March 15. No inconveniences will be caused those who wish to be measured and supplied, and the costumes will be delivered at their addresses.

Tickets for the fete, which takes place in Colonial hall on March 15, may be secured from Miss Mary Stevens, Mrs. Joseph F. Talbot, Mrs. Joseph A. Nesmith, Mrs. Albert W. Thompson, Mrs. L. A. Olney, Mrs. Mary E. Williams, Mrs. Fred A. Estes, Mrs. Edward M. Murphy, Mrs. C. Marshall Forrest and Mr. John U. Wolcott.

which the picture derived its title. But in this instance the change is all for the best as the present photoplay version is entirely free from the melodramatic artificiality remarkable in the fact that it stands out in such strong company with Anna Q. Nilsson, Julia Swayne Gordon, George Jessel, Mrs. Owen Moore, (Katherine Perry), Claude King, Corrado Carbone and the other familiar members of what is practically an all star cast.

As to the story itself, it is simple and powerful. It deals with two girls, who grow to womanhood, who have grown to womanhood. The unfairness and narrow-minded actions of one parent drive one girl forth into the world. The over-indulgence and careless neglect of another parent is the cause of the second girl's leaving home. The paths of the two girls cross and it is a question that will be reached in a sequence of scenes that do not let the interest flag for a minute. "Why Girls Leave Home" is above all, one of the cleanest and most thoroughly satisfying entertainments the silver sheet has offered us in some time.

The second big attraction for the second part of the week at this popular amusement house will be "Taking a Chance," starring Richard Talmadge, a new comer to the ranks of the screen stars. He is said to be a second Douglas Fairbanks and in the present photoplay does many of the antics that have brought fame to the noted Doug. In addition, there will be the usual comedy and news.

THE STRAND

Your last opportunity of seeing the big triple-feature bill, headed by the original screen version of the old familiar and still popular melodrama, "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," will be offered at the Strand today. Don't miss seeing it. Viola Dana in "The Match Breaker" and Edna Murphy and Johnnie Walker in "The Jolt" are the other good things to be enjoyed.

BODY IN RIVER NOT THAT OF EVELYN NESBIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The body of a woman closely resembling photographs of Evelyn Nesbit, found floating in the Potomac river Monday, was said yesterday by newspapermen not to be that of the ex-actress.

Washington police communicated early yesterday with New York authorities in an effort to check their partial identification of the body as that of the divorced wife of Harry K. Thaw after examining photographs provided by local newspapers, but last night had received no reply to their inquiries.

Newspapermen, who attended the trial of Harry Thaw in connection with the killing of Stanford White, or were otherwise acquainted with the appearance of Evelyn Nesbit, said last night that the body found in the river showed at first glance marked resemblance to the one-time actress, but that closer examination revealed it was not she.

Evelyn Nesbit found in New York NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Evelyn Nesbit, ex-actress and divorced wife of Harry K. Thaw, was found last night in an apartment on West 52d street, after having been reported dead in Washington.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents
D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

A laughing show, headed by those princes of mirth, Dave Seed and Ralph Austin, for performance at the B. Keith theatre throughout the present week, and it has met with complete approval. These two men are quite in a class themselves when it comes to rigging up laugh-provoking situations. "Things and Stuff" is the rather odd title of their sally, but is without doubt one of the funniest things of the whole season. Pat Barrett and Nora Cunneen in "Looking For Fun," comedy act, while Anderson & Burt have a domestic comedy located in the Alps and called "The Dizzy Heights." Some of the repartee is very bright. Then there are Jack Benny, violin humorist; Kane & Gray, dancers; LaVail & Sister, aerialists and Arena Bros. eccentric acrobats. Motion pictures of the funeral of the late pope are shown at all performances.

RIALTO THEATRE

John Lowell, who plays the role of Joe Morgan, the regenerated barroom victim, in the photoplay, "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," showing at the Rialto theatre, will personally appear at the theatre today and will tell the circumstances under which the film was screened. It is coming with a welcome to the hundreds of people who plan on seeing the production for they will have an opportunity to compare the well known screen star with his appearance and work on the screen.

Last night's performance of the big picture again brought capacity crowds to the Rialto and seats were hard to be turned away. Genuine approval of its big scenes were heard on every side and there is definite assurance that the theatre will be crowded to capacity for the remainder of the week. It is hardly necessary to review this story for the public. Old timers who knew and loved the picture will have the opportunity of seeing their favorites play the roles that have brought tears and laughter to the eyes of millions throughout the world who have seen it. Youngsters who have never seen the play will be swayed as were their parents, by the greatest story which can never grow old. There is love, hate, joy, sorrow and thrilling action for all.

OPERA HOUSE

To miss one of this week's performances of "The Broken Wing" will mean to lose one of the greatest, if not the greatest production Miss Pella and her own company ever attempted. Those who have already witnessed one of the presentations proclaim it unequalled so far as spectacular scenic creations are concerned, while the work of the engaging cast is excellent. Miss Pella in most entertaining in her characterization of the Mexican girl. The piece has some good humor, a love romance and many thrills. See it. Next week's production will be the great emotional society play "The Acquittal."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performance will be given this evening at the Merrimack Square theatre of "The Lane That Had No Turning," starring Agnes Ayres, and Boomerang Bill, with Lionel Barrymore in the leading role.

"Why Girls Leave Home," starring Anna Q. Nilsson, will be the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This production has a new note in photoplay presentation and demonstrates that a vital season may be taught in a manner most entertaining and without undue stress of mawkish sentimentality.

Harry Rapp who produced the picture and William Nigh who directed the actual photographing of the scenes have left but a little of the famous old American melodrama from

"LADDIE BOY'S" VIEW OF LIFE IN WHITE HOUSE

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—A dog's life in the White House is given in a letter ostensibly written by "Laddie Boy," President Harding's Airedale terrier, to "Tiger," a stage dog, which will appear in the current issue of the National Magazine, to be published tomorrow. The president sent the letter, Again one may have trouble in getting on or off a street car. It means a slow form of rheumatism of the joints or arthritis. The shoulders, elbows and hips are often involved. Again stiffness of the joints may, and often follows an acute attack of rheumatism, and if neglected tends to grow gradually worse. which was in reply to one from "Tiger," a dog, which will appear in the current issue of the National Magazine.

"Laddie Boy has made reply," President Harding wrote, "and I am sending you a copy herewith for your information, since you were the bearer of Tiger's message."

After telling of a thrill that wagged my stub tail violently when I read of the part you are playing, giving to the public a demonstration of the fidelity which characterizes our lives," "Laddie Boy's" letter says:

"Every dog plays his part well when he is merely his natural self, but unfortunately many a dog is more or less spoiled by his environment and associations. I imagine I am spoiled some myself. So many people express a wish to see me and I shake hands with so many callers at the executive mansion that I fear there are some people who will suspect me of political inclinations—from what I see of politics I am sure I have no such aspirations."

"Of course it is exceedingly interesting and worth while to be in the center of so many activities of great importance, but there is an air of earnestness and responsibility about it which I can see in my chief that I often long for the good old days back home."

"Sometimes the chief acts as though he would like to sit down when he and I can be alone, and I can look at him with sympathetic eyes and he does his best to be a grateful sort of way, as much as to say, 'Well, Laddie Boy, you and I are real friends, and we will never cheat each other.'"

"When the chief looks at me this way, I know that he feels that I will never fail and with him, no matter what he does, and that I will never be ungrateful nor unfaithful. "I realize that a dog's life is limited in years, but it is, after all, a wonderful life to live. I can believe we leave our impressions on our human associates. I suppose, because of my temporary assignment to the White House, you attribute to me greater knowledge than I can really claim to possess. I am only 18 months old and I do not know many other dogs. I have heard the chief talk about some of his dog friends and I know that he chooses to be known as the friend of good dogs."

"Say! talk about fellowship—me for the company of a small boy who has been taught never to be cruel to animals. That's the association for play which I like best. He and I have been the friends of many a dog, and I know the spirits. Still, there are a lot of grown-ups whom it is most agreeable to associate with."

"When I came to the White House the mistress gave me a rather cold shoulder. I found out afterward it was because she did not want to be attached to one and I was excessively pleased in case our association had to be severed. Since then she has 'fallen' for me to beat the band. She lets me come to the private dining room now and then, and I can coax morsels from the table a whole lot more effectively than a lot of office-suckers can argue for jobs. But I mustn't talk about these things, for fear I will be giving away some of the White House secrets."

"I have no doubt you will do a lot of good. If you can only have the realization that you are helping to establish a more kindly consideration of the animal life of which we are part, and you can impress your audiences with the beauty of the friendship of dogs for human associates who treat them becomingly, and instill in human lives some of the honesty and fidelity which characterizes the lives we dogs live, you will find a compensation in the good you have done, which will surpass any other experience in your life."

"The letter says there is no cat to play with at the White House and adds: 'I do not think I am sorry thereat. There is no cat to play with, and making war on some other quadruped as some of our forebears seem to think. It is really time to dwell in tranquility.'"

"Laddie Boy" signs himself, "Yours, with a cordial wag, a friendly sniff and a joyous greeting."

Pupil Writes Impression of School and Teachers

The following letter written by a pupil of the Green Evening school indicates that the writer appreciates the opportunities offered him and incidentally it shows what foreigners have to contend with in struggling to master our language. This communication is printed here as written and we may say that while there are mistakes in grammar the handwriting is far above the average of the public schools.

Editor Sun:

My impressions from Green Evening school: When I go in to the that holy building, which we name Green Evening school, I see one more and one liveliness, and every body to be doing with great zeal and promptitude, and can help for education, formation, and remember the most important and poor idea. These all reflect the good direction and the employees of school. They are all united with same zeal, same promptitude, with one and same nobility and one polite firmness are doing their own great duties for which the country charges them. Are doing one great calling useful for all the pupils and holy for the country and the community. This whole calling certainly first reflect for the principal and honorable Mr. (John) Barr, man with great formation, important physiognomy, without fatigue always, courageous and brightly exercises the all that this calling. Calling holy "The progress." Man humble with all the qualifications which he must have for the progress, with smile on his face rambles, from one class to another, inquires, learns, gives life for everything and every pupil paints on his smile look the love that he has for the pupils and that is enough, as new courage, new hope and new zeal implants for all and carry out better the great calling the progress and education for which certainly and only builded that holy school. The employees school's constitute with the teachers Misses M. Coughlin, M. Heaton, M. Sullivan, E. Smith, H. Barrows, C. Brown, M. Collety, A. Courtney, E. Deane, K. Early, M. Fay, M. Fay, M. ## MISUSING HYPNOTIC POWERS CHARGED

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—German criminologists, psychologists, medical and legal experts will hold a "congress" over the case of Leopold Mieczyński Kitzay, a Galician, whose trial on charges of misuse of hypnotic powers was set to begin here today. They have been summoned for opinions on psychology, hypnotism, suggestion and mental responsibility of persons who commit crimes while hypnotized.

Kitzay, who practiced hypnotism under the name of Lo Kitzay, is alleged to have influenced his clients to well or pawn their valuables and give him the money. He will also be held to answer charges of immorality, for he is said to have had great influence over women, one of whom, the wife of a well-known merchant, tried to sell her house and furnishings without her husband's knowledge and succeeded in raising a considerable sum which she gave the hypnotist.

He used part of the money in making a brief tour of German cities where he gave public exhibitions of his power over the merchant's wife who, with a friend, accompanied him.

The complaint against Kitzay cites as an example of his influence that he hypnotized a dancing girl while she was on the stage, compelling her to fall asleep and abandon the performance. This girl is said to have de-tested the hypnotist but could not resist his hypnotic power.

A number of husbands whose wives were addicted to drug habits appeared to Kitzay for assistance and in some instances he is alleged to have put the women to sleep and while in this condition suggested they sell or pawn their own valuables or the property of their husbands, proceeds of which transactions he pocketed.

Kitzay's defense will attempt to show the clients themselves were culpably inclined and committed the offenses without undue influence on the part of the hypnotist.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, fit and fit.—Adv.

SENATE CLERK DROPS DEAD

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Henry D. Coolidge, for almost 34 years clerk of the Massachusetts state senate, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon while on his way to his home in Concord on the Boston & Maine railroad train which left North station at 4:20.

Mr. Coolidge was stricken just before the train reached the Cambridge station at Porter square, North Cambridge, where it is due at 4:31 p. m. He was taken into the station, while the police of Station 4 were ordered to send the ambulance. Dr. William Bartlett of Concord and William Bartlett of Concord and Wm. Wheeler, a neighbor of Mr. Coolidge, left the train and went in the ambulance to the Cambridge city hospital, where Dr. W. J. O'Leary, house physician there, pronounced Mr. Coolidge dead.

While he made no careful examination, Dr. O'Leary stated that death appeared to be the result of heart failure. The body was taken to Litchfield's morgue in Cambridge.

Enrich and Strengthen Your Blood

Now With That Splendid Tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan

Keep your blood in good condition. The blood very often gets in bad shape, almost without your knowing it. How many times you feel tired and exhausted. You don't care about eating or going anywhere. Your work becomes an effort and you wake up in the morning more tired than when you went to bed.

When you feel like that, look to your blood. You can be pretty sure it is in a weakened condition.

Don't let yourself get run down. If you do not feel right, begin taking Gude's Pepto-Mangan and keep it up for awhile.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form and is sold by druggists everywhere. The liquid and tablets have exactly the same medicinal value. Buy whichever you prefer. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package.—Adv.

Stomach Upset, Gas, Gas, Gas —"Diapepsin"

"Diapepsin" ends indigestion, heartburn in five minutes. Sour, gassy, upset stomach, acidity, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the quick magic of Diapepsin. If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated—try Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach! Make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. Because Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that give it its millions of sales annually. Get a large sixty-cent box of Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the most efficient antacid known. It is safe, harmless, and belongs in every home.—Adv.

ROTARIANS HEAR ARMS DELEGATES OFF FOR HOMES

R. W. FENTON

Man Referred to as Reformed Criminal Tells Story of His Life

Easiest Thing in the World, He Says, to Reform Criminals

Twenty-three years of crime ranging from plain "dipping" to "stealing up work," "chaffing" and "chitting" and then repentance in the little Sunday school room in Chicago's famous "Loop" where Billy Sunday, 33 years ago, learned the truth of the gospel and turned toward salvation, light and happiness, were recorded in the life of R. W. Fenton, reformed criminal and known to the police and prison authorities of four continents, who yesterday afternoon told the amazing story of his life in crookdom and behind the bars and the ways and wherefores of it all to a large gathering of Lowell Rotarians at the Boys' club.

Before the lecture, the Rotarians announced a costume party and entertainment to be held on the night of Feb. 23, in Tewksbury town hall, where members and wives and guests will journey to enjoy a rare evening of gaiety, winding up with singing and dancing.

Reports from the Rotarians' relief committee, Frank R. Kenney, chairman, and Maj. Walter R. Jones, who took a newly young Lowell boy to Boston to have his eyes examined, were received and applauded.

Announcement was made that the boy's eyesight would be restored, that glasses had been secured for him after proper examination and treatment, and that well known Boston and Lowell eye specialists had handled the case and provided glasses and prescriptions practically without cost. The Rotarians heard from the boy, who last week was taken to the club where he revealed in new garments and was escorted about by Major Jones.

"I had saw birds, clouds and trees for the first time in many long months and at the Boys' club, after shaking hands with the officials, dashed madly out to the poolroom for one and half hours. The Rotarians report the boy's happiness and everybody delighted with the action of the business men whose interest in the lad's behalf is responsible for the young man's recovery of his vision."

The committee for yesterday's entertainment, including W. Anderson, Chandler, Carl C. Church, Jr., and Fred C. Church, Jr., chose for the topic, "How the Criminals of Business Men Makes Their Lives and Extends the Wealthy Keeps Them Thieves."

Mr. Fenton referred to the absence of all his "old time pals," said it was the last chicken dinner he had tasted since he pulled off a feed some years ago after robbing a "sniff" out of some $200 and odd change and criticized the western and eastern house rings that protect pickpockets and gamblers today just as they did in the past. He reviewed the recent crime waves in New York city and in Chicago. He denied that "75 per cent. of the criminals of today are inmates," as some reformers have declared.

"Was John Worthington, who stole nearly $100,000 in his lifetime, insane?" asked Fenton, pounding the dinner table. "Was Armstrong and all the others insane? No. They had more brains than a good many of us. But they went wrong because they wanted to go wrong. And for many reasons having nothing to do with the structure of their brain cells."

Fenton said he served in the ranks of crime for some 23 years, and lived about eight years of the 23 behind the bars. And he denies emphatically that he was a "born thief." His boyhood home was a good one, he said. (Continued.)

"I'll tell you what it was—evil companions—a desire for a good time—poolrooms, saloons, bad companions, easy living that's what started me down the pathway of crime. The saloons are never coming back—don't forget it, boys, for it's dead true. They are not coming back again. Incubators of crime were they, as are the low dance halls, the cheap halls and some of the moving picture houses that are prominent in larger cities, some of them being kept open all night to allow dais and thugs to come in and sit down after their street work is done. I know them all. I've been in them. All-night sessions of the past were the greatest breeding places for crime the world ever contended with."

Many Decisions Still Remain to be Applied and Given Effect by Boards

Conference Provided Virtually for its Rebirth Eight Years Hence

Representatives of Five Powers Which Signed Naval Pact to Meet Again

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. (By the Associated Press.)—Although the Washington conference had itself gone out of existence today with several of the delegations, including the British, already on their homeward journey, many of its decisions, particularly relating to the far east, still remained to be applied and given effect by boards and commissions authorized for the purpose.

In addition, the conference, so far as its naval negotiations are concerned, provided virtually for its rebirth eight years hence when representatives of the five powers which joined in the naval agreement will meet again to discuss naval armament, and it also authorized specifically a five-power commission to revise the rules of warfare.

The only directly continuing function of the conference remaining after its winding up was the secretariat-general's office. This has been charged merely with the final duty of compiling and publishing corrected minutes of the plenary and committee sessions and also will act as a clearinghouse through which the various governments will inform each other fully as to their existing commitments affecting China. It is expected to conclude both of these in the very near future and then close its doors.

And I know them all from Boston to Tokyo.

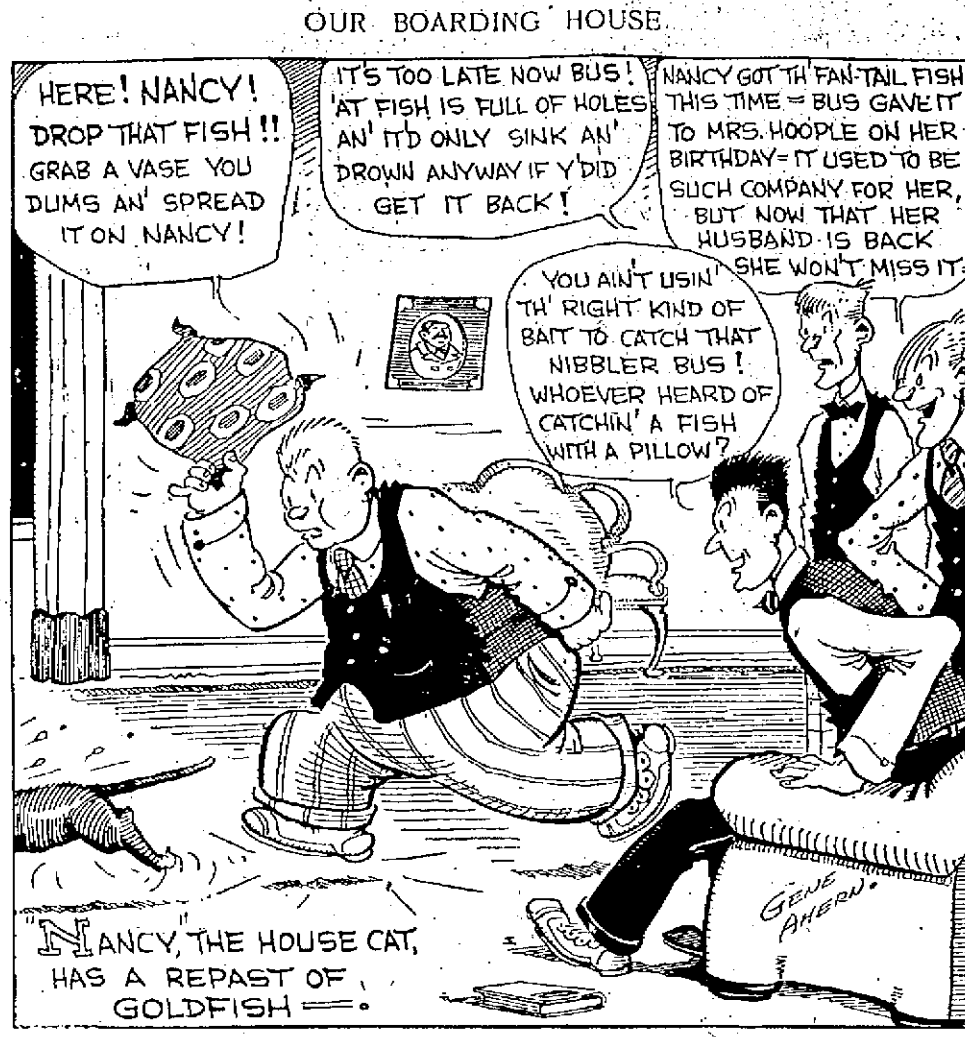

"I've been a glib talker—a 'street worker,' 'dip,' 'grouse,' and 'gyp' artist all in one, and my prison record shows it. I knew more Chicago thieves than the average Boston 'dip.' We used to go to Montreal and Quebec so as to be out of the 'dip' and 'put ups.' I only stole $350,000 in my time, but that was a whole lot, and yet it never did me any good. My largest 'dip' was $20,000, from a man in Quebec the year King George, then the Duke of York, visited that country."

"Does crime pay? Not by a jugful!" I was arrested and sent back to Montreal four months after that haul, and never got anything out of the money I swiped. There were the leaders to feed, the cheap criminal lawyers who always wanted to know, not how much we got, but how you got it? And I always took about all of it. It was arrested in 1908 in Rochester, but it was for poor picking—about $2,000. There I met brother George Raines, relative of Tom Raines, father of old New York rubber handwreck laws, who you could get boxes on Sundays by exhibiting an imitation light on the table in front of you. Great—just plain graft—all down the line from legislative hall to run joint. The average chicken thieves in those days were amateurs."

"I was in Springfield when President Roosevelt was there, and I got $600 in the crowd around his train. I spent nearly all of it retelling out of town. Nobody went to jail in that city in those days if he had any money at all. Shame, shame and hell made up the life of the rambling dip, and I had my share of it."

"I was stuck hard in a western city. People were boarding trains in bunches in one big station, and all had money, but you couldn't tell who had the biggest rolls. Finally my pal got a megaphone and stood near one of the eastern train entrances. 'Pickpockets, boys!' he shouted. 'Keep your hands on your pockets! Those who had the hand over their brow when the wallets were generally carried, and then we could pick 'em out quick when they mounted the car steps. We cleaned up so many 'bundles' that day that we had to stop work early."

"In one waiting room crowd in Omaha, a gang of pickpockets once found the picking so easy that they worked for five hours, and nabbed as many people they had to think the victims' coats so they could tell who to avoid on the regular ring around the station corridors. Those chink marks were the most curious things on view that day in the old Kansas waiting room."

Purse Placed on Casket Stolen While Mourners Sympathized With Mother

BROCKTON, Feb. 7.—When Emma H. Macapay died Saturday her sympathies decided the most suitable expression of sympathy for the family was a purse and a subscription paper collected $15.75 and it was taken to the bereaved home. It was placed in an casket on the casket Sunday evening and was stolen while mourners sympathized with the mother in the next room.

where we stopped long enough to count up and board a Pullman for the east."

The speaker warned business men to carefully guard money en route to banks from office headquarters. He declared that no one can ever tell when a robbery is going to occur.

He advised Lowell business men to elect only honest candidates for public office, saying that there is every opportunity in the world not to do so and very few cities actually do it. He declared there was never among most thieves. Then he wound up his interesting talk by telling of his release from jail, his visit to a mission and his real reformation.

He stated that Henry Ford had more than 240 ex-convicts working for him in his Detroit auto plants, and said Ford has actually done more for former criminals on their release from prison, than any man in America up to the present time. He advised all his hearers to live clean lives.

"And give a man a chance if you know he is honestly out to reform himself and lead a better life," advised the speaker. "Don't throw him a job shoveling coal out of your cellar. If he is worth anything at all, give him something useful and something that he will like. It is the easiest thing in the world to reform the average so-called criminal. It's just the way you go about it, that is all."

Another White House Dinner Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Another White House dinner conference to consider the administration's legislative program has been arranged for tonight with members of the senate and house republican steering committee in attendance.

Among the subjects which leaders considered would be discussed are the soldier bonus, the tariff, and possibly matters connected with the arms conference. Members of the senate invited included Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Fernald of Maine. Among the house members who will attend is Representative Green of Vermont.

Sinn Feiners Facing Death, Reprieved

BELFAST, Feb. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Three Sinn Fein prisoners in Londonderry jail under sentence of death for the murder of two constables have been granted reprieves, it was announced today. Two cases of these men did not come under the general amnesty proclamation.

Strikers Force Another Mill to Close

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 7.—Strikers from villages nearby marched to Apponaug this morning, forced the closing of the Narragansett Cotton Co., a small fire fabric mill, and pulled out most of the workers in the Apponaug Bleachery. Convass of the strike situation in Rhode Island today indicated that 24 mills and bleacheries, employing between 10,000 and 11,000 hands are closed, while several other plants which are still running, have only a portion of their workers.

To Save Austria From Economic Collapse

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A resolution designed to save Austria from economic collapse by extension for 25 years the payment of Austria's debts to the United States Grain Corporation was introduced in the senate today by Chairman Senator Lodge of the senate foreign relations committee. The resolution carried the provisions, however, that the extension may not be granted unless other nations to which Austria is similarly indebted, grant like extensions.

MISS ANNIE ALLEN DEAD

Most Prominent American Educator in Asia Minor, Victim of Typhus

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 7.—Miss Annie Allen of Abundance, Mass., the most prominent American woman educator in Asia Minor, is dead of typhus at Sivak.

For the last year Miss Allen had been director for the American committee of relief in the near east at Ankara, at the same time acting as unofficial representative for all American interests with the Turkish nationalist government.

She was stricken with the dread disease while on inspection tour of the American relief stations. Miss Allen, who was 54 years of age, was educated at Wellesley and Mount Holyoke colleges and entered relief work at the suggestion of the Turkish government during the Balkan war. Her influence among the Turks in the interior was immense and her death comes as a severe blow to Turkish as well as American interests in Asia Minor.

The typhus is raging throughout Anatolia, but Miss Allen was the first American victim this year.

A report of Miss Allen's death was received on Feb. 4 at the Near East Relief in New York but no details were given in the message to the organization.

More Typhus Reported

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Two more cases of typhus besides that which caused the death of Miss Annie Allen at Sivak, Asia Minor, were reported in cable messages received today from the Near East Relief. C. C. Thibault of Manchester, N. H., and Miss Thekla Phelps of Philadelphia, have suffered from the disease but are reported recovering.

MAINE MILL WORKERS PREPARE FOR STRIKE

FALL RIVER, Feb. 7.—The emergency committee of the American Federation of Textile Operatives in the cotton mills of cities in Maine voted that a reduction be opposed and on Saturday night gave to Organized Langlois of Lewiston, Me., to arrange for mass meetings to be held as soon as possible and to prepare for a strike on Monday next, Feb. 13. The following telegram was sent to Organized Langlois:

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 7, 1922. "Louis Langlois, 167 Park Street, Lewiston, Me."

"The emergency committee instructs all local unions of Augusta, Lewiston, Biddeford and Brunswick to strike in opposition to wage reductions. Call open mass meetings at once in each city to prepare for strike Feb. 13. In behalf of emergency committee. (Signed) JOHN P. O'CONNELL."

The committee also voted to request that all unions and individuals of the federation give their generous consideration and financial support to the strikers in the mills of the Pawtuxet valley.

20,000 Will Be Affected

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 7.—More than 20,000 textile operatives are employed in mills in Lewiston, Biddeford, Augusta and Brunswick affected by orders sent from Fall River today instructing local unions in those places to strike on Feb. 13 in opposition to wage reductions, recently announced. About 12,000 of these are in Lewiston and Auburn, approximately 8500 in Biddeford, and 800 in Augusta and 750 at Brunswick.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Iron construction intended to support the roof of the Knickerbocker theatre, the collapse of which cost the lives of 32 persons, was weak in certain points and was below the requirements of the plans submitted for the construction of the theatre. Robert Henry Davis, engineer in the District of Columbia building inspector's office today testified at the opening of the coroner's inquest into the catastrophe.

Grand Canyon of Colorado Is 6000 feet deep in its deepest part.

SENATORS TO CONFER

Prepare for Receipt and Consideration of International Agreements

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Senate leaders of both parties were actively working today on plans for the receipt and consideration of the international agreements evolving from the arms conference. Party conferences of senators for consideration of the treaties prior to the time they are taken up on the floor have been virtually determined upon by both republican and democratic leaders. No dates have been set, but it was understood the meetings to talk over the international agreements likely would come early next week.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Senator Underwood of Alabama, both members of the American delegation and leaders in the senate of their respective parties have been informed of the almost unanimous desire of senators for the meetings and are said to have expressed the feeling that full and free discussion should be had.

Among the democrats, the statement was made today that democratic senators should know how far their leadership in supporting the treaties. Party policy obviously figures in the situation but representative senators from both parties evidenced a desire to have harmonious consideration of the subjects and to have all senators in possession of full facts.

Their work was given by leaders of either party of an intent to have the parties take caucus action or attempt to bind senators to a given proposition or stand.

The next step in the handling of the arms conference matters is the report to be made to the president by the American delegation. This report it was said today by Senator Lodge after a call at the White House, will be made within a week.

DEMAND LARGER DOLES

Unemployed, Lock, Board of Guardians and Newspapermen in Board Room

LONDON, Feb. 7. (By the Associated Press.)—The Poplar board of Guardians—local officials, responsible for paying and distributing relief for the poor in the metropolitan borough of Poplar—were locked in the board room last night and held prisoner until 1.30 o'clock this morning, by a crowd of unemployed persons who demanded larger doles. A number of newspapermen shared the imprisonment of the guardians. The captors effectively prevented use of the telephone and they resorted to communication to sunken relief.

The guardians recently doubled the doles, but the ministry of health promptly notified them that this was illegal and they reverted to their former rate of payments. Their plea of government pressure was rejected last night by the unemployed, who seized on unemployed persons who houses the board room and hoisted a red flag on the roof, declaring they would not give up until their demands were granted.

No violence was reported.

TO BUILD CHURCH ON SITE OF FAMOUS DIVE

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Paul Kelley's dive, a notorious den in the days when the old Bowery was world-famous for its iniquity, soon will undergo another metamorphosis.

Gambling, fight, saloon, rendezvous of the underworld, hurling house, poolroom and hangout for notorious characters—and finally a Rescue mission for human derelicts—Paul Kelley's dive has been all these.

Now comes the announcement of "Doctor" John Callahan, "bishop of the Bowery," chaplain at Tombs prison and superintendent of the rescue mission, that a $200,000 church of all nations will be erected on the site.

The Church of All Nations will be financed by the New York society of the Methodist Episcopal church. It will be five stories high, with chapel, dining room, sleeping rooms, gymnasium and library.

HELD FEBRUARY PATRIOTIC PARTY
A February patriotic party was enjoyed by the members of the Educational club yesterday afternoon, the affair being held in the quarters of the Y.W.C.A. The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. E. D. Foss and Mrs. W. S. Jesse, and was as follows: Mrs. M. Marcotte, song, accompanied by Mrs. Vera Brown; Master Warren Dean, reading; Miss Dorothy Brissett, piano; Miss Dorothy Parley, violin; and Miss Dorothy Fleming, harp; Mrs. N. Marcotte, "The Star Spangled Banner"; Mrs. E. D. Foss and Mrs. Caroline Crawford were in charge of the decorations, while Mrs. A. M. Richardson was in charge of the tea served by the hospitality committee. Mrs. Horace Clement and Mrs. R. Nigmeault poured. It was announced that next Tuesday's meeting will be current events and will be in charge of Mrs. John McLeod and Miss Lary Twiss.

LADIES' AUXILIARY A. O. H.
The Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., held a brief meeting last night, the only matter of importance acted on being a decision not to hold a meeting on Washington's birthday. President Catherine Giffney was in the chair. Refreshments were served at the loss of the meeting and an excellent entertainment program given. Ella Barry, Alice Casady and Nora Duddy were the most prominent contributors, with Mrs. Nora McInerney and Miss Frances Goggin acting as accompanists.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The former
transport Northern Pacific—which last
claimed headlines in 1919, when she crashed onto a sandbank, off Fire Island with 3000 American soldiers—was destroyed by fire 40 miles off Cape
May, N. J.

A crackle of the radio early this morning brought word that fire had broken out aboard the swift steamer
and that she was a mass of flames.

Later messages report that she had been abandoned by Capt. William Lusti and her skeleton crew who were taking
her to drydock in Chester, Pa.

Rescue of all her crew by steamships
recorded.

The latest message stated that the vessel, blazing fiercely and listing hard
ward.

ing the vessel, continued to Page Six

One Killed in Shooting at Mill Gate

YORKVILLE, Ohio, Feb. 8.—At least one man was killed and a number of others injured in a fight this morning at the plant of the Wheeling Steel Corporation here. The plant resumed operations yesterday after being shut down since last July when the company and the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers were unable to reach an agreement. The dead man, Elmer Cox of Tiltonville, was said to have been on duty as a union picket when the shooting occurred. At the mill were a number of deputy sheriffs.

CHARGES GRAND JURY COERCED

Allen. Accuses District
Attorney Pelletier

Makes Plea for Dismissal of Indictment Against Allen
for Larceny

BOSTON, Feb. 8.—Charges that the grand jury which recently indicted
Attorney General J. Weston Allen for larceny of $150, had been coerced by District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier,
were made by counsel for Mr. Allen
today, in a plea of abatement asking
that the indictment be dismissed.

The plea, offered before Judge Fossenden in the superior court, was admitted in place of a previous plea of not guilty after Jeremiah J. Desmond, foreman of the grand jury, had testified that Pelletier and Assistant District Attorney F. M. J. Sheehan were in the grand jury room when the Allen case was considered. The attorney general a few weeks ago finished prosecution of the district attorney on charges of misconduct.

Desmond testified that after witnesses had been examined he heard Pelletier say that it was "a clear case of larceny if ever he had seen one." He also quoted the district attorney as saying that the position of the man made no difference in a question of indictment and the grand jury first voted "no bill" but later one of the jurors suggested that another vote be taken. This was done, he said, at a time when neither the district attorney or Sheehan was in the room and the indictment was voted. The alleged larceny was investigated in Attorney General Allen's relations with a client several years ago.

Under "cross-examination," Desmond said that neither Pelletier nor his attendant had done anything in the Allen case in regard to voting that they had not done in other cases. Nothing was said as to how the jurors should vote, he testified, adding that his own vote was not influenced by anything Pelletier said.

After admitting the plea Fossenden suggested that the question of the regularity of the indictment be tried by a jury. Assistant District Attorney Lyons favored this procedure and Mr.
Parker opposed it. Court was then adjourned.

SAVED LIVES OF TENANTS

Good Work by Two Policemen at Early Morning
Fire

Children and Others Rescued
From Burning Building in
Dummer Street

Quick thought and action on the part of two local police officers, Patrolmen William P. Liston and William Lee, undoubtedly saved the lives
of tenants living in the block at 67
Dummer street early this morning,
when a threatening fire broke out in the dry goods store of Nicholas Flo-tis, next door, and volumes of smoke rolled
floors above.

Patrolmen Liston and Lee were standing together in Broadway just at the head of Dummer street at about 2:15 o'clock when the latter saw flames
coming from the store at 67-Dummer.

He ran to pull fire alarm box 113 at Lewis and Little streets, while Patrol-
man Liston dashed down Dummer
street and into the building. Awakening tenants on these floors, he then carried three children to safety. Lieut.
Ambrose and men of the protective company then went through the building with Officers Liston and Lee and
either carried or guided everyone living there to the street.

The fire did considerable damage in the dry goods store and also spread into the house next door, owned by Nicholas Mantos. The recall was not sounded until nearly 4 o'clock.

Public Service Board Must Call Upon Civil Service For Street and Ash Collection Superintendents

Important Ruling Received From Commissioner Places
Doherty, Wilson, Kearney and Gardner Under Civil Service—Kearney and Gardner Exempt From Examination Because of Long Service

As a result of a communication and
ruling received by the board of public service from the commissioner of civil service, it will be necessary to make requisition upon the commissioner to fill the positions of superintendent of streets and superintendent of ashes
and waste collection, now occupied respectively by Henry P. Doherty and Sutton Wilson.

When such requisitions are received in the office of the commissioner he
will authorize provisional appointments and will order examinations
held for the positions. This means that both men now serving will be obliged to take such examinations,

whether or not they are competitive
or non-competitive.

The board of public service was no-
commission that Henry P. Doherty, superintendent of streets; Sutton Wilson, division superintendent of ashes and waste collection; Robert Gardner, superintendent of water, and Stephen Kearney, city engineer, are held to be classified as under civil service.

Mr. Kearney and Mr. Gardner, however, their appointments will be entered on the records as properly made.

It will be recalled that Henry P.
Doherty was elected to the position of superintendent of streets by the old government in 1921 and later a similar action was taken by the board of public service.

Sutton Wilson, as far as can be learned, was appointed by Mayor Geo.
H. Brown, with no confirming vote or action of any kind forthcoming from
the public service board. The division over which Mr. Wilson has charge is directly subordinate to the board,
however.

MISS MINTER'S HOME GUARDED

Mayor of Los Angeles Replies
to Criticisms of Motion Picture Colony

Letters Written to Taylor by Miss Normand, Which Disappeared, Are Returned

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—A reply to
criticisms of the motion picture colony here, resulting from the murder of William Desmond Taylor, has been in-sued by Mayor George B. Cryer.

"The attacks being made, particularly in outside cities, against the morals of the so-called motion picture
colony in Los Angeles, are unfair and untrue, I believe, to hastily formed conclusions by people not familiar with
real facts," he said.

"The Arbuckle case and the slaying of Mr. Taylor were indeed unfortunate affairs, but it is not just to criticize
an entire group of people such as those engaged in the motion picture
industry for incidents, many of them
not true, as to facts, which have been published broadcast lately."

Letters written to Taylor by Mabel
Normand, which later disappeared,
have been returned to her, according
to detectives. The return was made,
it was declared, after a man connected with the film world, who had taken
them, had been threatened with a
grand jury investigation.

A representative of Miss Normand
said the letters had not been given
back to her.

Captain of Detectives David L.
Adams stated the police never had
been in possession of Miss Normand's
Minter to Taylor.

Miss Minter has guards around her house to keep away uninvited callers,
as she is ill, it is reported.

Quarrel Described

A quarrel between Taylor and Mabel Normand was described by Henry Fellows, chauffeur for Taylor, according to the Los Angeles Examiner, today.

"I was driving Mr. Taylor and Miss Normand from the Ambassador hotel, where they had attended a New Year's eve party, to her home," Fellows is reported to have said. "On the way they had a quarrel. I don't know what it was about, but both were very much excited. Mr. Taylor took Miss Normand home and then returned to his apartment. Upon arriving, there he broke down and wept. On the following morning he was found dead."

ARMED BANDS CONDUCT RAIDS

Prominent Unionists Kidnapped and Ulster Con-stabables Ambushed

Ulster Government Mobilizes Forces to Deal With Raiders—20 Officers Seized

BELFAST, Feb. 8 (By the Associated Press)—Armed bands raided several of the northern counties of Ireland last night and early today, carrying out kidnappings of prominent Unionists and ambushing Ulster con-stabables on an extensive scale.

The Ulster government announced it would take drastic measures to deal with the raiders. It immediately notified in Belfast hundreds of the Ulster special constabulary and dispatched them in forces to the scenes of the kidnapings and attacks, where they are now scouring the country in search of the perpetrators.

20 Constables Seized

Up to this afternoon the capture and spritting away of at least 20 constables had been reported. A number of the raiders were wounded and nearly a score of arrests made.

The counties where the raids occurred were Fermanagh, Tyrone, Donegal and Sligo. In several cases Unionists put up a desperate resistance and were wounded before being carried off. One constable was shot and killed in a fight with his assailants.

Consternation ruled in the affected districts and elsewhere in Ireland where news of the sensational happenings was received, and fears were expressed in quarters friendly to the provisional government, now engaged in preparing for the establishment of the Irish Free State, that the events of the day would further complicate its difficult task.

BELFAST, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—A large number of the leading unionists of Counties Fermanagh and Tyrone, in the Ulster area, were kidnapped from their homes early today and taken

Ring Spinner Fixers Take Strike Vote at Special

The latest development in the local

official announcement made this morn-

the Slasher Tenders' union at a meeting held last night, voted unanimously
to reject the proposed 20 per cent
reduction in wages at the Hamilton
mills or any other similar reduction that may be announced in their local textile mills. The vote of the union
means that the organization went on record as favoring a strike rather than accepting the proposed reduction.

The action of the slasher tenders does not necessarily mean that a strike will be ordered for Monday morning, for similar action is required in the majority of the nine unions affiliated with the Lowell Textile council before the operatives are ordered not to report
to work.

CUT IN MILL WAGES

An Operative Protests Against Reduction—What The Sun Said on Matter

We gladly print the following communication from a mill worker whose case we believe is typical of thousands who work in the mills of our city, and who would be very seriously affected by a cut down in wages:

Dear Sir—In an article recently printed in your paper, you seem to uphold the Hamilton and Day State Cotton mills in cutting wages 20 per cent. Now I am earning $12.50 per week and I have five children, the oldest 12 years, and pay $5.25 rent per week for a tenement having a bath but no hot water. I have 1/4 of the Sun some years ago for six cents per week, now it is 12 cents. A haircut was 20 cents—now it is 35. The rent for the tenement I live in was $2.50 per week a few years ago, but now it is more than double that amount. The policemen get almost double their former pay, the firemen the same. City Treasurer Bourke asks more pay for his clerks. Is there one of those clerks who can go out and get the same pay from any private firm? Or did you ever hear of one giving up his or her job because of being underpaid?

Mr. Editor, I hope you will print this letter in your paper and also explain how a man can support a family such as mine on $12.50 a week. During the war help was scarce. Did you ever see the millmen raise wages 20 per cent or 25 per cent at one time? No, it was 5 per cent, 10 per cent or 15 per cent at the most.

But when they cut down it is 25 per cent, and now another cut of 20 per cent. Do you wonder that we have to have soup kitchens in the city? When the taxes go up $1 on a thousand, the landlords raise the rent $1 or $2 a month. I would like that you would explain how a man situated as I am can live on what I am getting, or how I could live and support a family after a cut of 20 per cent, as proposed in the Hamilton mill and also in the Day State Cotton mill and perhaps in some other mills a little later on. By printing this communication, you will oblige.

Yours truly,

(Signed) A. S. SULLIVAN, A Mill Worker, Lowell, Mass., Feb. 5, 1922.

The writer of the above communication is greatly mistaken if he thinks the Sun upholds the proposed cut of 20 per cent in the Hamilton and Day State Cotton company. In referring to it, we said that the announcement seemed to come as part of a movement to readjust wages in the textile industry all over New England, and that so far as the operatives are concerned, the situation calls for wise leadership and united action in the interests of all concerned. We also said:

"The chief objection to the reduction of wages at present is that the cost of living has not been reduced to the extent usually represented. For some reason or other the consumers are not getting the benefits of the radical reductions announced by wholesalers."

"Many retailers seem still to think that war prices should prevail, and this is very largely where the economic shoe pinches."

"The operatives can ill afford to bear any radical cut in wages unless the cost of living is reduced in like proportion."

"That does not seem to uphold the proposed cut. We do not know the affairs of any mill or what rate of wages such mills can afford to pay. We believe, however, that if John Golden were alive, he would have held several conferences with the millmen and would have been able to decide what was the best policy to pursue."

"The writer of the above communication has our sympathy; and we confess that we cannot see just how a man can support a family such as he has in any degree of comfort on the wages he is receiving. He is not getting $3.25 a day and if his wages were reduced by 20 per cent he would get but $2.60 a day, which would average about 43 cents a day for the support of each member of his family. The fact that there are many cases in Lowell even worse than this, should bring sympathy to the cause of the operatives and induce the mill managers to avoid wage cuts so far as possible."

late yesterday afternoon and was taken under advisement for further study and investigation on the part of the board members.

Records in the archives of the office of the city auditor show in 1918, when the present mayor, Hon. George H. Brown, was serving under the old form of charter as commissioner of fire and water, there were payments of $2888 made on four sets of Bennington scales, purchased for the water department.

That portion of the committee's report which deals with the scales, states that at the West Sixth street station there are three large cranes, each containing a set of Bennington scales; another set stands at the Cook well, while a set of American Automatic scales, also crated, is to be found at the boulevard pumping station.

"Each of these scales is of large dimensions and has been the property of the department for many years and as these scales never have been included, we would recommend that they be put into use or disposed of," the report states.

"The committee also lists 10 one-gallon cans of 'Fire Fluid' at $15 per gallon, at the West Sixth street station and recommends a practical test to determine their value."

"The committee's report in full is as follows:

Lowell, Mass., Jan. 21, 1922. To the Board of Public Service, City Hall, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: Your inventory committee herewith submits recommendations that in their opinion, will be of benefit to the water works department and are as follows:

1. The brick building now used as a stable and at the present time housing only two horses could be changed to make an excellent stock room. The horses ought to be disposed of and in place of them a small motor truck could be purchased. Some modern and index system should be installed. In this stock room that will show the receipt or delivery of any article.

2. In the attic over the machine shop are many valuable patterns used in the department which should be made a part of the stock, properly labeled and tagged.

3. In nearly every part of the department are collected piles of junk, consisting of brass, iron and old rubber, together with old wrenches, slugs, engines and pumps that could be disposed of.

4. At the West Sixth street station are three large cranes containing a set of Bennington scales. At the Cook well is another set of Bennington scales crated and at the boulevard pumping station may be found a set of American Automatic scales, also crated. Each of these scales is of large dimensions and has been the property of the department for some years. As these scales have never been included, we would recommend that they be put into use or disposed of.

5. In the West Sixth street stock room are 10 one-gallon cans of 'Fire Fluid' without labels, listed at $15 per gallon. We would recommend that this so-called fluid be put to a practical test to determine its value.

6. At the West Sixth street station, above the machine shop, is a carpenter shop fully equipped. As no one is at present employed there, we would recommend that a skilled mechanic or carpenter be secured to do the work necessary for the upkeep of the department.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. GILL, Chairman,
W. CHESTER GRAY, Secretary,
GAIL F. LIPPS.

Interior Dept. Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The interior department appropriation bill carrying $825,623,112, was reported today by the house appropriations committee. The total is $10,573,037.07 less than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year, and $3,754,920 less than the amount requested in the budget estimates.

Favor Taxation to Raise Funds for Bonus

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Funds for the soldiers' bonus would be raised through taxation under present plans of the majority members of the house ways and means committee, according to information given today after those members had discussed the whole bonus situation in executive session. It was stated that it was not the purpose to depend upon any part of the interest or principal of the foreign debts.

Draft Report on Arms Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—The report of the American arms conference delegation may be presented to President Harding late today or tomorrow, it was indicated today at the state department, where the delegation again went into session to continue drafting of the report. It was considered probable that the president might send the treaties evolving from the arms conference to the senate before the end of the week. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, who headed the naval advisers to the American delegation, had a lengthy conference today with President Harding.

Decrease in Number of Blind in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The number of blind persons in the United States decreased from 67,272 in 1910 to 52,617 in 1920, according to the last census.

STREET MAINTENANCE PAYROLL REDUCED

A reduction of $2488.92 from the week previous is shown in the payroll total of street maintenance, payable on Friday of this week. The total amount is $4122.07, against $6610.99 for the week before, thus bringing the figures well within the $5000 maximum ordered for that department by the public service board. It has been necessary to lay off some 200 men to reduce the payroll to the present figures.

In direct connection with this reduction was the appearance before the board yesterday of Timothy Finnegan, representing the municipal employees' union, for the purpose of voicing the protest of his organization against a policy of laying off so many street department laborers, particularly men old in the service.

"The chairman of the board told Mr. Finnegan that the board would take the notice under advisement, but that an endeavor is being made to live within the anticipated appropriation for that department for 1922."

PARK SPRAYED FOR SCALING Employees of the park department sprayed the surface of Washington park today for scaling. If it holds cold tonight the surface should be in excellent condition tomorrow.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflame the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash or nausea. We try to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mucus, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Adv.

Glasses as a protection for watch dials were introduced in 1920.

Yesterday, from ten to fifteen men were sent away, among them the following: Roger W. Foster, 1668 Gorham street; Malcolm S. Guthrie, 1641 Gorham street; Thomas P. Knight, 19 Jewett street and John J. Buckner, 31 Stanley street, all enlisted in the coast artillery for three years, the last named being sent to Fort Terry, N. Y. Cornelius O'Brien, 145 Salem street, and his buddy, Henry St. Hilaire, 115 Salem street, formerly of the 13th Infantry, Co. B, re-enlisted, and Joseph A. Tourville, 19 Dempsey place, were sent to the same outfit. The remaining names were not on the list, as there have been two other men on recruiting duty in Lowell and their list of names was not available.

CONCORD STREET BOY BITTEN BY DOG

It has been reported to the board of health that John Stone, aged 11 years, lying at 124 Concord street, was bitten yesterday on the left hand by a dog owned by Miss Catherine Crowley of 186 Concord street.

It will be recalled that the city council passed an ordinance last Friday, effective Feb. 3, which made it obligatory upon all dog owners to either muzzle or restrain dogs from running free, for a period of three months.

This action was taken on the recommendation of Dr. Walter L. Sherman, city animal inspector, as a means of checking any epidemic of rabies.

Ship Wrecked Off Cape Cod

the steamer was beginning to break up, coast guards said the men of the Thistlemore stood by. The freighter, under the strain of high wind and heavy seas during the night, had crossed both the outer and inner Peaked Hill bars.

In that position the coast guards of the Race Point and Peaked Hill stations found it possible to make fast a line for the breeches buoy after a night of failure. The coast guard cutter "Tampa," which went speeding down the coast to the Thistlemore's aid after hearing her S.O.S. last evening, was forced to stand off the coast, beyond the dangers of bars and shoals. Captain Fortune had asked that the men of the steamer be taken off, but when the Thistlemore settled into her sandy bed, it was decided that they

$1.00 PACKAGE OF GENUINE

Yeast Vitamins Tablets from your druggist today.

IF YOU ARE THIN AND EMACIATED AND WISH SOMETHING TO HELP YOU PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT, Yeast Vitamins Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron, both food and Vitamins are completely useless, as your body cannot change inert food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron enters with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood just as fire enters with coal or wood, and by adding it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good.

Arrangements have been made with the druggists of this city to give every reader of this paper a large $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamins Tablets absolutely free with every purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

DIPLOMATS ARE NAMED

ambassador to Germany and Minister to Austria and Hungary Nominated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Diplomatic nominations to Germany, Austria and Hungary were nominated yesterday by President Harding. Alanson B. Houghton of New York being selected ambassador to Germany; Albert Henry Washburn of Middleboro, Mass., minister to Austria; and Theodore Tamm of Illinois, as minister to Hungary.

Confirmation by the senate of the nominations of Houghton, Washburn and Tamm and presentation by them of letters of credence to the governments to which they are to be accredited will completely restore the status of the United States with its former enemy countries.

The president's decision to nominate Houghton as ambassador to Germany was announced some time ago and his nomination came as no surprise. The prospective new ambassador at present is serving his second term as a member of the house from the 37th New York district. He has been manufacturing interests at Irving, N. Y., and prior to the war did a number of visits to Germany. He received a portion of his education at the Universities of Berlin and Göttingen.

The nominations were sent to the senate and referred to the foreign relations committee.

is at Middleboro, Mass. He was a delegate to the republican national convention from Massachusetts in 1896 and in 1917, was elected a member of the Massachusetts constitutional convention.

After graduation from Cornell, in 1889, Mr. Washburn entered the diplomatic service as United States consul at Magdeburg, Germany, serving in that position for three years. He then took up the study of law at Georgetown University, at the same time acting as private secretary to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. He took his degree from Georgetown in 1895. From 1897 to 1901 he was assistant United States attorney for the District of Massachusetts, and during the three years following, acted as special counsel to the United States treasury department in customs cases. Since 1904 Mr. Washburn has been engaged in practice in New York. He has been president of the Association of Customs Bar. He was connected with the political science and international law department of Dartmouth college, as lecturer in international law.

Former Chief Justice in Illinois Judge Brennan served on the bench of the superior court of Cook county, Illinois, for more than 20 years, a portion of the time as chief justice.

The president also sent to the senate the nominations of Fred Morris Dearing of Missouri, at present assistant secretary of state, to be minister to Portugal, and of Roy T. Davis of Missouri, to be minister to Costa Rica.

Rev. Joseph M. Denning of Marion, O., was nominated by President Harding today to be agent and consul general at Tangier, Morocco. Fr. Denning is pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church at Marion and has been a lifelong friend of the president.

RUBBER BATHING SUIT FOR WINTER

Miss Persis Tuma, of Riverside Drive, New York, has the winter tourists at Atlantic City agape with her new bathing suit. It's made of rubber. She says it retains the body heat and is just the thing for snow plunges. She didn't say the open work stockings retain the heat.

WOULD RESTRICT USE OF WIRELESS PHONE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary Hoover was directed yesterday by President Harding to call a conference of army, navy and commercial experts on wireless telephony to conduct an investigation looking towards restriction of wireless telephony.

The subject was discussed at length in yesterday's cabinet session. The president was told that through the broad-casting of news, advertising, music, concerts and other reports there had arisen the danger of interruption to the use of the wireless telephone for purposes of national defense and commercial purposes.

adies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clean up the skin than all the beauty treatments in creation. An imperfect complexion is caused by a sluggish liver.

Millions of people, young and middle-aged, suffer from Biliousness, Dizziness, Sick Headache, Upright Stomach and for Salubrious and Healthy Skin. They end the misery by taking CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price

End Rheumatism, Weak, Lame Back

Old St. Jacobs Oil will stop pain and stiffness in a few moments

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, and not one rheumatism case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right on the tender spot, and by the time you say Jack Robinson out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. ## Most Sensational Murder Trial In Wyoming in Ten Years

As the trial, now started, proceeds, Foight and Lampitt, both were workers in the Grass Creek oil field in one of the wildest parts of the Wyoming Big Horn basin.

The social center of the Grass Creek field is Ohio Camp, a little settlement where the Ohio Oil company maintains headquarters for its employees.

Bunkhouses, each consisting of six small apartments, are the sleeping quarters provided for the unmarried male employees of the oil company.

Foight occupied apartment No. 1 of one of these bunkhouses. Four other oil field workers occupied other sections of the bunkhouse.

Unlike other employees Lampitt did not have quarters in a bunkhouse. He occupied a small cabin, set apart from the rest of the camp.

Grade Lee, typical western beauty, was employed as caretaker of the bunkhouse.

All the unmarried males, including Lampitt, admired her, but all stood aside when it became known she favored Foight's suit—all save Lampitt.

Miss Lee continued to Foight's attentions to her. Foight promised to settle the matter with his rival.

Then—Early one morning while Foight and his four bunkhouse companions slept the bunkhouse was rent by a terrific explosion.

Foight and his dog, sleeping beside him, were torn to pieces.

The other four bunkhouse occupants died in agony.

There was no sign of life around Lampitt's cabin. In front stood his automobile, loaded with food and supplies as if in preparation for a journey.

Sheriff Holdredge knocked at Lampitt's door. Lampitt came to the door, rubbing his eyes as if just awakened. He said he had not heard the deafening explosion.

Investigation by Sheriff Holdredge showed the Ohio Oil company's powder magazine had been looted and a quantity of high explosive stolen.

The magazine had been forced open with the aid of a heavy bar.

This is the evidence on which the state hopes to send Lampitt to his death.

One—The alleged finding in Lampitt's automobile of a heavy bar of the kind used in opening the powder magazine.

Two—Automobile tracks which the state says led from the powder magazine to Lampitt's shack.

Three—Lampitt's alleged skill at making trap guns and bombs for killing mountain lion and other beasts.

Lampitt denies the charges against him.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 5.—The jury in the case of Thomas Mott Osborne, against whom Mrs. Julie Mullano Duffy brought suit for $5,000 for alienation of the affections of her former husband, William J. Duffy, last night returned a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Mrs. Duffy charged that it was through Osborne's influence that Duffy sought and obtained an annulment of his marriage with her on the grounds of irregularities in the marriage license.

Duffy, who subsequently married Helen Healey, was a member of the naval guard at Portsmouth Naval Prison when Osborne was commandant there.

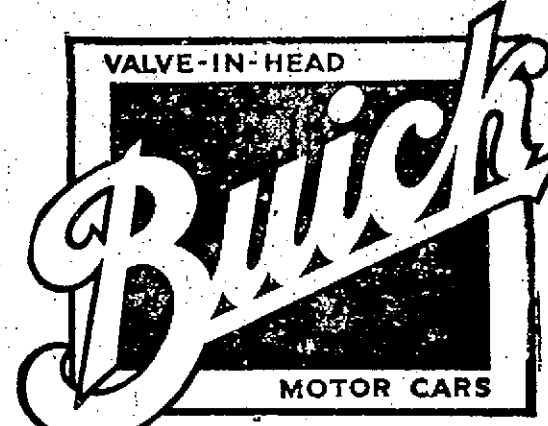

The case went to the jury in United States district court at 4:45 yesterday afternoon after Judge George F. Morris had charged the jury for half an hour, following 100 minutes of argument by the closing arguments by Judge Ernest L. Guptill, of Portsmouth, for the plaintiff and George T. Hughes, Dover, for the defense.

It was the first case of the kind ever tried in this court and has been in progress since Jan. 31.

POPE EMBRACES CARD. O'CONNELL

Pontiff Praises America—Deeply Interested in Arms Conference

ROME, Feb. 8. (By Associated Press)—Pope Pius XI yesterday let it be known that he was profoundly distressed and disappointed that America was not represented at the conclave which elected him Monday. Putting his arms around Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, the new pontiff said:

"It was a great personal sorrow that you were not present."

The Holy Father was at pains to explain to the American Cardinal that the question of prolonging the conclave had been discussed seriously by the cardinals, but that the constitutions were so rigid they were unable to see their way out.

Hoped Cardinal Would Arrive

"Every member of the conclave,"

In conversation with the Associated Press correspondent yesterday, Cardinal O'Connell said that the pontiff spoke in most affectionate terms of America and manifested the deepest interest in the Washington conference for the Limitation of Armaments.

"I was happy to see your peace-loving country take the first step toward amelioration of this monstrous evil of armament," the pontiff said. "Like my illustrious and honored predecessor, I have unbounded admiration for the energy and clarity and the great heart of your people."

Then, laying his hand on the American cardinal's shoulder, he added slowly: "You Americans are young in years, but old in wisdom, worldly prudence and foresight. Your innate qualities of fairness, justice and peace, your great moral and spiritual stability and your infinite riches make you the hope and anchor of the whole world."

Cardinal O'Connell told the correspondent the Holy Father was much like an American. Amiability, modesty and sweetness of manner were his dominant traits, and his manner was most democratic. The cardinal added:

"He is a man of the common people and has all the human qualities which made the world love Pius X. He has a cultivated mind, an alert manner and discerning judgment."

Discussing the probable policy of the new pontiff regarding relations between the church and state, the cardinal said that the whole world could be sure he would follow a course of pacification and conciliation.

"He told me with emphasis that he wanted to be of service to all humanity in re-establishing peace, order and mutual trust in the world, and that he would dedicate the rest of his elevated life to this holy mission," the cardinal added.

Cardinal Yvanvelli, dean of the Sacred College, and many of the other cardinals, in expressing their regrets and disappointment that Cardinal O'Connell had not arrived in time, said they had urged upon the pontiff the imperative need for a change in the constitution in order to permit attendance at the conclave of cardinals living in distant countries.

In speaking of this, Cardinal O'Connell said: "I am touched by all these expressions of regret and apology, but of course they do not lessen the lamentable fact that I was not here."

The cardinal denied a story published in Rome newspapers that he had brought $2,000,000 from America as a gift to the Vatican.

"I didn't bring a cent," he said. "I had enough to do to bring sufficient money to pay the expenses of such a long and arduous trip."

This question as to whether the conclave should await the arrival of Cardinal O'Connell before the announcement of the pope's election was made caused a more distinct division in the Sacred college than was met on any ballot during the election. It is reported.

The foreign prelates, except the representation of one country (which was an allied power during the war) were soley in favor of delaying the announcement until the appearance of the Boston cardinal.

Three Italian cardinals, including Ratti, who is now pope, agreed to this, but were overruled by the majority. The French cardinals, for whom Mercler, although a Belgian, was spokesman, were the leading supporters of the plan for delaying the announcement until Monday afternoon.

Cardinal Mercler when seen by an Associated Press correspondent, said: "Obedience to the rules of the conclave forbids me saying what took place inside the locked doors, but you may say that I was, I am, and will be, in favor of Americans being present at the pope's election. I think that the law calling for convening the conclave 10 days after the demise of the pontiff should be amended to read 20 days, so as to insure not only participation of the United States and Canadian cardinals, but also the South American."

The correspondent is informed that the three German cardinals strongly supported the French and Belgian attitude that America must be represented.

All the foreign cardinals were greatly impressed by the linguistic ability of the new pontiff yesterday, when he greeted each of them in his respective tongue.

Cardinal O'Connell yesterday gave the Associated Press correspondent the following message to the American people:

"A new vita of Christ has been chosen to lead the Holy Roman Catholic church, and with a thought of regret for the departed pontiff, the world will acclaim the election of the new sovereign."

Sees Hand of Providence

"Miraculous circumstances over which I had no control prevented America, in my humble person, from being represented at the conclave, but the designs of Providence are inscrutable and infallible. Peace on earth and good will to all, which from the foundation of the church has been the Vatican's guiding thought, will be continued. The Holy Father believes that the greatest formula for the present evils of the world is the application of these principles, which were sanctified by the life and death of Christ."

"Humility, reinforced with untiring energy; charity and tolerance toward mankind; confidence in human nature and faith in and will yet prove the world's salvation."

May Allow More Time

Prolongation of the time—now ten days—between the demise of the pope and the date of convening the Sacred college for the election of a new pope to a period which has not yet been definitely decided upon, but which will permit not only the United States but Canada and South America to be represented, is the first question which will be discussed at the first consistory called by Pius XI.

Cardinal Lucon, archbishop of Rheims, is sponsor for the proposal, so that henceforth there shall be no such disappointment as greeted Cardinal O'Connell upon his arrival in Rome yesterday. The Sacred college in general has felt deeply that the announcement of the election of the pope before the arrival of the American cardinals might be interpreted in the United States as a slight.

Report of Death Denied

ROME, Feb. 8. (By Associated Press)—It was reliably stated yesterday that Cardinal Mercler, who was suffering from influenza when he entered the conclave, had died in the Vatican before the election of the pope.

A dispatch from Rome to the London Times Monday night stated that Cardinal Mercler, who was suffering from influenza when he entered the conclave, had died in the Vatican before the election of the pope.

Why New Pope Took Name Pius

ROME, Feb. 8. (By the Associated Press)—The reason for his choice of the name "Pius" was explained by the new pontiff yesterday to Cardinal Luelli.

"I was born under a Pius. I came to Rome under a Pius. Pius is the name of peace—then Pius shall be my name," he said.

to unknown destinations. Fifteen arrests have been made in connection with the kidnappings.

The raiders are believed to have come from Counties: Cavan and Longford, near the border. The forces known as the "B Specials" are being mobilized today in Tyrone and Fermanagh and rushed to the scenes of the kidnappings. The Ulster government has announced its intention of taking drastic measures.

Among these kidnapped was Major Moutray, son of Anketell Moutray, head of the Tyrone Orangemen. The major stiffly resisted and finally was wounded. Former High Sheriff Carson of County Fermanagh, whose house was raided, resisted single-handed for an hour until he was wounded and carried off in a motor car.

The house of Major Moore, at Belleek, Fermanagh, was similarly attacked, but Major Moore succeeded in escaping.

A merchant named Elliott at Enniskillen, fired on the raiders when his house was attacked and it is believed he wounded one of them. The merchant himself escaped.

Attacks were also made on the houses of former County Inspector McGuire and various other prominent Unionists in the vicinity of Enniskillen.

A party of what are known as "A Specials" was ambushed near Newtown Butler, last evening by a large party of armed men. Casualties were sustained on both sides. The residences of other constables were visited and a number of the constables were kidnapped and carried over the border.

At noon today, Registration Inspector Deacon, prominent Unionist of Newtown Butler, was taken to the hospital suffering from gunshot wounds.

WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Daniel F. Shay, charged with receiving stolen property, in connection with the theft of four automobile tires from a car in the Boston & Maine railroad yard on October 29, 1920, was found not guilty in district court yesterday afternoon by Judge Frederick A. Fisher.

When the larceny of the tires was dismissed in district court in November, 1920, two of the three defendants, Pratt and Scoble by name, were found guilty and fined, while the third defendant, Daniel F. Shay, was found guilty of receiving stolen property and fined $25. The case was not pressed by the district attorney, and the railroad company brought another charge of receiving stolen property against him.

One of the main points of evidence at the first trial and again yesterday was a statement said to have been drawn up by Officer Smith of the C. & M. railroad and signed by Pratt, Scoble, Shay and Perry, the latter a man whose automobile had been entrusted to remove the property to a garage on Main street. In this statement, Scoble, Pratt and Shay told of the larceny of the tires.

At yesterday's trial, neither Officer Smith nor Pratt were present. Lieutenant Shiner of the local police department, Frank W. Brown of the C. & M. railroad, and Joseph Perry, an employee of the railroad, testified for the prosecution and Perry Scoble and the defendant, Shay, for the defense.

"A rash broke out on my arms and spread to my face and chest. After a while it took the form of white blisters. The itching and burning were unbearable and my clothing aggravated the eruptions. When I scratched the affected parts the blisters would burst and the skin become inflamed. I found it impossible to sleep."

"I read an advertisement about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Margaret Sullivan, 25 Thacker St., Newport, R. I., Aug. 20, 1921.

GENOA ANNOUNCEMENT TO BE MADE FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—America's response to the invitation of the allied supreme council to be represented at the Genoa Economic Conference probably will be announced Friday, it was said yesterday at the White House. It was stated officially that delay in framing the American reply had not been occasioned by any negotiation with legislation for funding the debt of foreign nations to this country.

No indication of the nature of the American government's response to the invitation was given yesterday. The belief has been expressed in official circles that attendance of delegates actually representing the United States at Genoa might be dependent upon the nature of the response.

Reading, Pa.—"I was a nervous wreck and could hardly do my housework. I always had to have help or I would never have got it done. Through the advice of friends I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my nerves and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine for my blood and I am feeling fine and doing my work all alone. I can recommend these medicines to any one, for they certainly helped me. I suffered for five years and Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines pulled me through." — Mrs. WALTER U. STROYER, 1218 Mulberry St., Reading, Pa.

Recommend the Vegetable Compound

New Orleans, La.—"I have found relief from my troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I praise it wherever I go. I could not do my work as it should be done for I would sometimes have to lie down because of the pains I had. A friend induced me to take your Vegetable Compound and I have got great results from it. I keep house and am able to do all my own work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine." — Mrs. T. FOSCKLER, 1915 N. Derbigny St., New Orleans, La.

Had Nervous Spells

Horatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 95 pounds when my husband's mother persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do." — Mrs. J. H. REARICK, Horatio, Arkansas.

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of housework cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done.

Many women struggle along for years suffering from some form of female trouble that makes their lives miserable and their homes far from happy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound and again afterwards. It helped them—let it help you.

Adventures of the Twins

A LITTLE BREEZE CAME ALONG AND GENTLY, VERY GENTLY, THEY WERE LIFTED UP INTO THE AIR.

There was a funny little old buskins sitting on a fuzzy dandelion, smoking his pipe and asking the Twins if they would like to go to Thistle-down Land. You don't have to guess very hard to find out what the children answered. There, I know you've guessed already.

But a thought struck Nancy. "Oh, I forgot. We can't go. Mr. Buskins. We're not allowed near the apple-tree since Nick ate a green apple and got sick. So we can't get to the magical elevator."

"Don't I know it!" nodded Buskins soberly. "That's why I'm here. You see there are more ways than one of getting to the Land-of-up-in-the-air. This dandelion puff was just about to start for that part of it called 'Thistle-down Land' and I thought we could be passengers. What do you say? You've got your Magic Green Shoes on and can wish yourselves as small as you like."

"Of course," laughed Nick. "I'll depend upon the scope of the proposed discussions. It was suggested in some quarters that last-minute developments might determine this country's attitude."

It was the belief in some official circles that the reply would be in effect an acceptance.

Reparations Issue Inevitable

Matters likely to be discussed at the Genoa conference were reviewed extensively last night, by the Federal Reserve board in its monthly bulletin. According to the board, Russian and German questions are "practically inevitable elements" in the existing European economic situation.

The issues at stake on these points, however, the board declared, were "political" rather than economic, and the belief was advanced that any plan for rehabilitation of Russia, Germany, Austria and Southeastern Europe generally would not be likely to succeed, because of natural limitations.

The board further says the reparations problem has been considered in almost invariable element in any discussion of European questions at large.

The board discussed a possible extension of the Wiesbaden agreement plan, under which payments would be made in kind in lieu of cash, but added that "payments in kind will not, however, ultimately solve the French situation, because of the large French public debt."

Must Guarantee Fiscal Reform

For credit rehabilitation, many complex problems would first have to be solved, in connection with reparations payments, with domestic and foreign indebtedness and with the effect of national policies upon the amount and direction of current export.

Touching on the inflation existing in Europe, the board maintained that any artificial methods for controlling exchange operations would be of no permanent value. The United States, the board declared, has an interest in the introduction of some form of gold standard, because the abnormal concentration of gold in this country at present is "gravely dangerous."

No proposals of any sort should, however, the board asserted, be entertained until far-reaching guarantees of fiscal reform have been secured from the countries that require aid. Otherwise, the assistance would be detrimental to the extent that it would lead to the postponement of the necessary fiscal reforms which must be made preliminary to the rehabilitation of currency systems and the re-establishment of stabilized exchange relationships.

Teacher Dismissed for Flogging Pupil

GROVELAND, Feb. 8.—Stanley P. Ladd, chairman of the school board, today announced that after an investigation of the flogging of Constance Pepin, a 12-year-old pupil, it had been decided to dismiss Lewis B. Coombs, a teacher. The Pepin girl and her sister have said Constance was struck more than 100 times by Coombs while another teacher held her. The statement adds that Miss Ruth Sargent, principal of the school would not be dismissed because, although she consented to the punishment and to a certain extent shared in the responsibility she did not strike the child.

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor.
SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press

WE SHOULD STAY OUT
While it is not certain that the United States will not participate in the Genoa conference, we believe a decision should be made in the negative without further delay. In the first place, it is difficult to determine what the scope of this Genoa conference will be. The motives behind the conference are known only to those with whom it originated. Representatives of Soviet Russia are to attend; and should the United States be a party to the conference, we might find ourselves placed under obligations to the Bolshevik regime, which, so far as can be judged, cannot be relied upon to carry out the terms of any definite agreement. It is doubtless true, that the Bolsheviks have nearly reached the limit of their power and endurance without outside assistance. Capital was embarrassed to be used for the benefit of the whole country, but at present, the gold reserve in Russia has been exhausted, and Lenin is unable to secure supplies from other countries on credit. Undoubtedly, he will seek some basis of credit or of barter at the Genoa conference under which he can exchange raw materials from Russia for the finished products of other nations.

Premier Lloyd George will undoubtedly unfold some plan for general adoption that may help the weaker nations to revive their industries and to re-establish channels of trade that have been practically paralyzed by the operations of war.

The countries involved have much to gain from the formation of a uniform policy and closer business relations, but the United States is too far removed to derive any benefit from any such policy. It is true that our government should do something to mitigate the tax burdens that are pressing down upon the industries of the country and forcing capital into idleness. The taxation system is undoubtedly one of the main causes of the present industrial depression and consequent unemployment.

The tariff is another problem that calls for prompt settlement, for the reason that while the business interests are held in the state of suspense they cannot be expected to embark upon any new enterprises or to look very far ahead. If the republican leaders tackle these problems as they did those that were disposed of at the arms conference, they may achieve practical results.

What we need now is an American conference of the capitalists of industry to decide ways and means to overcome the present business stagnation. We need an industrial conference at Washington. In calling the economic conference at Genoa, the European nations are looking to their own interests. It is high time that we should give some earnest effort to the economic problems at home. We are not the keepers of the European nations.

Is it not in law, while America is to be safe? Now comes a law-maker with a bill aimed at reformers, uplifters and the truly good folks who would have us all mend our ways, including in that category of the world's all who live and breathe and call themselves humans. From Albany capital of a great state and also seat of many freak laws that have been aimed at men and women who would enjoy some freedom of life, comes an act to amend the penal law in relation to the crime of hypocrisy.

The word hypocrisy is defined: "Any person who for pay, hire, reward or in anticipation of any pay, reward, gift or other valuable thing or consideration, shall publicly advocate, advertise or support; or any person who has sponsored or shall solicit funds, gifts, contributions or any other valuable thing for the public advertising, support or endorsement of any legislative measure calculated to infringe upon and restrain the free exercise of personal liberty, shall be guilty of hypocrisy, punishable as a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, sentence shall not be suspended."

The reasons for this bill are explained by the assemblyman in detail, as follows:

"The professional accelerators of public opinion from prohibition to blue laws, from false moral issues to anti-foreign propaganda. It is this same breed all the time. Twenty years ago they agitated against fights in burlesque shows now they want to cover the best of burlesque theaters. The time is at hand to stop this legislative epidemic. My bill, if passed, will do as of the bill professional reformers. The introduction of it may help to bring us back to some respect for the rights of individual citizens."

It is probable that this bill, along with many others too numerous to mention, will go to the long road to the legislative waste paper bin. Albany has never been famous as the home of pariahs and blue-law enforcement experts, even as a municipality. And it is not likely that the New York salons will take the assemblyman's "hypocrisy" bill seriously even now, with reformers still on the warpath everywhere.

THE BONUS BILL
President Harding and the republican congress are in a peculiar quandary at the present time over the bonus bill. It is well known that the president made a definite promise to bring forward a bonus bill for the service men and now with the November elections threatening republican disaster, it appears that the leaders have determined to pass such a bill at any cost. They have been warned by

SEEN AND HEARD

You've got to be a person of good breeding if you can take five blues at a poultry show.

Wonder what some of those so-called "mad dogs" really think of the human race anyhow?

This country apparently cannot isolate itself, but it can generally stand a loan, our neighbors overseas think.

To be really new, take your "Ealing" at a real purphy-topped table and have her with you.

Guide books of Cuba and the West Indies are selling for 75 cents a piece. Are you interested in social customs down that way?

And to think that they used to call those gay boys of the old veteran hand tub army camped "vamps!"

Letting friend wife run the house on the budget plan is O.K. enough, but we'd hate to have her start anything with one of Dawes' new brooms.

Ordering From Sample
A soldier entered a restaurant and ordered a beefsteak. He waited 10 minutes or so. Then a waitress brought a large plate in the center of which a small piece of meat reposed. The soldier turned it over and examined it carefully. Then he said pleasantly: "Yes, that's the sort of thing; bring me some."

An Ingenious Infant
The father of an ingenious infant is a retired mathematical professor, whose two boys are gardening and keeping poultry. Most of his hens, however, died of a mysterious complaint. One day the professor found his little daughter planting feathers in neat rows behind the cabbage patch. "What on earth are you doing?" he demanded.

"Don't be silly," said the infant crushingly; "you said that we couldn't have any more eggs because the chickens were all dead, and I'm setting out some chicken sets."

That Was Different
"I never saw the equal of those jagabys next door," said Mr. Biddle. They are always wanting to borrow something. I honestly believe we've lent them everything in the house except the piano and our twin beds."

The Moderate Drinker
"The moderate drinker," said William H. Anderson, the prohibition leader of the "no liquor" faction, "is such a type as Peleg Mannebaum. Old Peleg Mannebaum sat in his parlor with a demijohn of home brew beside him. He tossed off a couple of glasses of the stuff and proceeded to lecture his son on the evils of drunkenness and the benefits of moderate drinking. 'Never drink too much,' old Peleg concluded. 'Be a moderate drinker, like me.' The boy, who was usually called 'Young Man,' howled at him and said: 'You've had too much.' Old Peleg Mannebaum pointed out of the window. 'Do you see those two women standing on the corner? He said: 'Well, if you saw four women there you'd have had too much—wouldn't you?' 'That, father,' said the young man, 'there's only one woman there.'"

Love Will Conquer
She will come in April glory. She will come in June's glory. Softly singing, lightly stepping. While we dream the hours away. She will come in the morning. To the old as the young. Love, the mortal and immortal. With the dawn-dew on her tongue.

In a moment's light transcendent. In a flash of thought or word. She will dance as joy's attendant. She will speak the fairy word. She will come to June's station. At the breath of hope and glad. She, the dauntless and the daring. Like a star upon the deep.

Born of mist and formed of vapor. From the faded face of fate. She will come, and we will worship. And our lips will drink the dew. Out of wine and out of tempest. Out of tumult she will call. And our hearts enshrouded shall answer To her whisper's virgin tale.

She will come in lightning swaying. She will come in blue lanes. With her hands in moon-white playing. On our hearts the old refrain. She will come and laugh shall matter Of old wars, vain words, regrets. We shall sit with her and chatter 'Till the very soul is free.

MAN ABOUT TOWN
One of the best-known conductors on the Lowell-Trautman railroad line is "Jim" Boyle, who has been punctuating the road for many years. Always genial, never complaining, and always looking out for passengers who have a hobby of leaving parcels in their seats, this conductor is one of the most efficient on the old New Haven lines. Not long ago a passenger getting on at a station outside the city dropped a valuable commuting ticket. The conductor was notified, and he made it his business the next day to inquire of the station agent about the matter. The ticket was recovered, and sometime afterward, when the conductor and the station agent happened to meet, the ticket was turned over to its owner. A little service like this counts a good deal nowadays, and the countryman is one of Boyle's firmest friends. But all along the Framingham road, you will find thousands of men and women who know this railroad official intimately and "swear by him." Conductor Boyle, another genial ticket puncher, now handles the train arriving at the Lowell station each night at 6:55 o'clock.

I am informed that the recent change in train schedules on the New Haven road running out of Lowell, resulted directly in reducing the number of trains on various divisions of the line, because of poor traffic. The cancellations affected numerous lines out of Worcester, New London, Winsted and Franklin. Some trains, it is said, had been run at a loss for some time, and were finally chalked off the cards. The recent changes affected Lowell only in time of departures and arrivals of certain trains on the Old Colony division.

The Main About Town was informed today that for the first time in years, Lowell patrons of the Old Colony road now have "through service" to New Bedford. Formerly, trains did not connect and patrons changing at Mansfield, were obliged to wait half a day or thereabouts, when they wanted to go through to the "Whaling City." Lowell folks can now board the 6:35 morning train and reach New Bedford in good season, connections being made at Mansfield for the first time.

I am in receipt of an old-fashioned almanac (not the "Farmer's") which gives "weather forecasts" for the month of February that are interesting. I find for the period between the first and fourth of the month, a "cold wave," which hit the actual conditions on Saturday and Sunday pretty nearly right. For the period between the fifth and the eighth of the month, "mild" weather is predicted. A "storm period" is coming, we read, between the ninth and the thirteenth day. Between the thirteenth and the sixteenth, a "cold wave" is to appear again. We are told, then follows a "mild" era of about three days. Between the twentieth and the twenty-third of the month, we are warned of a "severe storm and danger period." The latter part of February, it is predicted, will be cold and fair in the central states, cloudy in the east, with a storm coming in from the northwest. Watch your calendar and see how well the weather prognosticator hits it!

History informs us that conditions 100 years ago in the manufacture of cotton cloth were somewhat similar in many respects to present day conditions. A century ago it was a serious question whether America could compete with England in the manufacture of cotton. Today the northern mills have to meet the competition of southern mills, where labor is cheaper and working hours longer and general mill expenses lower, the southern mills being nearer the cotton and coal also being cheaper. One hundred years ago in favor of England was cheaper labor, greater capital, superior skill and an established reputation. And yet in favor of the Lowell cotton mill interest a century ago were cheaper cotton, abundant water power and the superior enterprise of a people in the vigor of youth, as history tells us.

Lowell, of course, obtained its name from an enterprising American who has been called the "father of the American cotton industry." Francis Cabot Lowell. This gentleman seems to have been about the first man to inspire in the minds of enterprising Americans the full conception of the feasibility of competing with England. He was a descendant of the great immigrant of the year 1814, been introduced into the cotton manufacturing of the town of Waltham. The success of the experiment in that place on the Charles river, led to the construction of the mills in Lowell, for the Merrimack river had abundant waters and splendid falls which, of course, promised inexhaustible power. The Merrimack Manufacturing Co., whose history is actually interwoven with the early history of Lowell, was incorporated in 1822 with a capital of $600,000, rated in 1822 with a capital of $600,000. Francis Cabot Lowell was its first treasurer in that year, and Francis C. Lowell was the next (1837), Eben Chadwick (1839), Francis B. Crowninshield (1851), Arthur T. Lyman (1877), Augustus Lowell (1878), Charles H. Towne (1879), and so on up to the line to 1922.

ALLEGED DESERTER
An alleged deserter from the army, Frank Cornish, a much wanted man, according to the police authorities, was taken by Officer Clyde Aldrich yesterday to Fort Andrews in Boston harbor.

Glass-lined tank cars for carrying milk are now running into Pittsburgh, Pa., daily.

Finest floors are said to be in Russian houses.

May Postpone Genoa Conference

LONDON, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Official confirmation was given today of the report that a note had been received from the French government making strong representations for the postponement for three months of the Genoa economic conference. The British government's reply has not yet been formulated.

First Step Toward Real and Lasting Peace

TOKIO, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The agreements reached at the Washington conference mark the first step toward establishment of a "real and lasting peace," with the possibility of abolition of armaments, Premier Baron Takahashi told the house of peers yesterday. "The imperial government does not pretend that the conference was an unqualified success as viewed from an individual standpoint," he said. "It does believe with the other powers that the present agreements are the first step toward realization of a real and lasting peace and that such agreements will grow in the future even into an understanding for the total abolition of defense equipments."

Japan Halts Work on Battleships

TOKIO, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The navy department has ordered the various dockyards to stop construction work on the eight battleships and battle cruisers now on the ways which are to be scrapped in accordance with the Washington conference agreement. The battleships are the Kaga, Kii, Owari and Tosa; the battle cruisers are the Alago, Akagi, Amagi and Takao. Construction of auxiliary craft set for the fiscal year 1924-1925 will be advanced to the present in order to afford employment for the dockyard workers, it is announced by the chief of naval construction.

90 Day Vigil in Iceberg-Infested Waters

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The staunch little cutter Seneca of the United States coast guard sails today on the first leg of a 90 day vigil among the iceberg-infested waters off Newfoundland and the Grand Banks. The Seneca is equipped with instruments for sighting bergs, for detecting their presence by changes in water temperature, for taking soundings in the regions where bergs are found, and for broadcasting warnings by radio.

6 P. C. Cut For Railway Clerks

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Feb. 8.—A wage reduction which will average about 6 per cent, will take effect on about 400 clerks in the employ of the Central Vermont Railway on the next pay day. The cut was agreed to at a conference of the officials of the clerks' union with the officials of the railway. The agreement was between the parties interested in preference to referring the matter to the United States Railway Labor board. The clerks received a cut of 12 1/2 per cent on July 1 of last year. During the last three years (the increases averaged about 50 per cent. All clerks in the employ of the railroad are affected from Montreal to New London, and all branch lines.

10 P. C. Reduction in Freight Rates

BANGOR, Me., Feb. 8.—The Bangor & Aroostook railroad today announced a 10 per cent reduction in freight rates on potatoes, apples and hay in carload lots, effective April 1. The reduction will apply only to shipments originating on the Bangor & Aroostook and destined to other stations on the same or connecting roads and will terminate June 30, the date when the 10 per cent reduction by other roads expires. In announcing the reduction, President Todd stated that the tremendous increase in state, municipal and federal taxes was the main reason why the reduction could not become effective prior to April 1. Figures were given showing that the total tax for this year will be over $300,000 greater than that paid in 1917. Announcement was also made today of a reduction in demurrage rates on empty cars to $1.50 a day.

Berton Braleys' Daily Poem

A FRIENDLY ARCTIC
The Arctic is a friendly place. Says Mr. Stefanisson. Although for nearly half the year the night is never done. But you get used to it in time. And really think it fun!

In summertime mosquitoes bite. With energy and vim. And frequently in winter days. You freeze each separate limb. But things like that, says Stefanisson, Soon friendly-like to him!

You live on seal-meat and on fat. Which is delicious fare. And when you're very fed, perhaps. Upon a polar bear. (Unless, of course, he feeds on you—Which sometimes happens.) (ho-ho-ho)

You float around on cakes of ice. Through wild and frigid seas. While your thermometer reveals. Sixty-sixty-five degrees. Below the well known zero mark—Excuse me, if you please.

For though to Mr. Stefanisson. Such weather may seem fine. And though the Arctic be his friend. And eagerly opine. That if the Arctic's like he says. It isn't no friend of mine. (Copyright, 1922, The Lowell Sun)

TO MAKE SURVEY OF SHADE TREES

An immediate survey of all shade trees in the city that seem to constitute a public menace will be made by Superintendent John W. Kernan, acting upon directions given him last night at a meeting of the park commission.

The commission feels that many trees are in a dangerous condition as the result of the ravages of winter and particularly the heavy storm of November last and despite the fact that the board's recent request for an immediate appropriation of $15,000 for necessary tree surgery has not been granted, it is the intention of the commission to warn the city government of conditions and the danger to life and limb unless the tree question is handled at once.

Wherever possible, Superintendent Kernan will take photographs to show the actual condition of some of the larger and older trees and when complete that data of the survey will be presented to the government in the form of an urgent recommendation.

Make Every Meal a Perfect Feast

Tanlac Makes Each Bite a New Delight

When your digestive system is working efficiently and smoothly, extracting from your food abundant stores of vital energy and plugging up a reserve force of vigor to meet any emergency, every bite is eaten with keen zest and appreciation.

If your meals are not a real event, if you do not approach the table with organ and through ample secretion of digestive fluids. It then promotes energetic action of all the bowel muscles and glands and enables the food to pass through the digestive canal in the normal time. Each of the thousands of little glands whose duty it is to pick up nourishment from the food and send this to all parts of the body are stimulated to their utmost.

The whole result is that food is taken care of without distress of any sort in such manner as to derive the utmost benefit from it.

If your appetite is not keen, if your food seems to disagree with you, if you are underweight, nervous, irritable and lack energy, give Tanlac the chance to show you that it can work a miracle in your condition, as it has in so many thousands of other cases.

If you are despondent, gloomy with little taste for food and enjoy the most lively anticipation of its delights, then you are only half-living, because you are only half getting the value of your food.

Lack of appetite, or distress from indulging the appetite, are both due to the same cause—failure of the digestive system to properly do its important work. The undigested food remaining in the alimentary canal may merely cause a distaste for more food when it cannot take care of what it has, or it may undergo chemical and putrefaction changes that cause acute diseases.

Besides, these chemical changes produce poisonous substances that are carried to every cell and organ of the body and that cause all sorts of distressing symptoms.

Tanlac, the famous digestive tonic and body builder, has achieved its wide success because it is able to invigorate the entire digestive tract.

It acts to cause vigorous stomach preparation of the food, both through the muscular churning action of the ment of life, for Tanlac and no doubt you will see the clouds of gloom roll away under the sunshine of health.

You are entitled to be healthy, vigorous, efficient and happy. Give yourself the chance to become so as thousands of others have, by taking Tanlac.

Get Tanlac from your druggist this very day. Why wait for tomorrow when Tanlac—and health—await you today?

Orders - German Strikers Back to Work

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The executive committee of the Railwaymen's union has ordered a resumption of work beginning tomorrow afternoon.

A Berlin dispatch last night announced that the men would resume work on condition that the government refrain from reprisals in the form of wholesale discharges. The government promised that regular workers would be reinstated.

COUGH SO BAD THAT HE SPAT BLOOD

Right Lung So Sore He Could Not Lie on Right Side

Mr. Thomas Nickerson, formerly of 24 Flint street, tells how he was cured of a racking cough and more lungs by using Allen's Lung Healer.

He says: "I had a bad case of pneumonia, which left me with an awful cough. My right lung was so sore that I could not lie on my right side at all. When I had a bad spell of coughing I would spit up blood. Having used Allen's Lung Healer before I began to use it again and I am thankful I did. I took three and a half bottles and am glad to say I was entirely cured. I can't say too much for it as a great lung healer."

For the last three days of the week, starting with matinee on Thursday, will be "The Night Rose," a Goldwyn special with Lon Chaney and Leatrice Joy in the starring roles, and Miss Maria Prevost in her newest and best creation, "A Parisian Scandal." "The Night Rose" is a thrilling picture showing the power of a leader of the underworld who reaches into the very halls of justice. Political heroes are the pawns of this power. Lon Chaney's characterization of the criminal role is said to be his very best screen effort. The original screen offering of this story was subject to revision by the New York Times. "A Parisian Scandal" with pretty Miss Prevost as the star, will give variety and extreme pleasure to the patrons. It's a story of interesting present-day conditions in big cities.

comes as an appreciation of the Art Association's efforts.

A manuscript with a prize Chinese play from Purdue university, Indiana, has arrived in Lowell. This play was given at the western conference of Chinese students last year, and the students of the Textile school are looking forward to presenting it themselves on the night of the fete. The students also wish to present a selection from Chinese classical drama. It is also planned to have Chinese pantomime during the general dancing at the fete. Happy surprises are planned by several groups under the direction of Miss Barbara Brown, Miss Elizabeth Talbot, Miss Katharine Nesmith, Miss Ruth Green, Mrs. Mary Williams and Miss Louise Hall. Mrs. Julian Keyes and Miss Josephine Ockington are preparing six special dances. Announcement is made by Mrs. Mary Williams of 32 Mt. Washington street that those who buy tickets may secure costumes easily from a customer who will be present at the Whistler house during the week preceding March 15. No inconveniences will be caused those who wish to be measured and supplied, and the costumes will be delivered at their addresses.

Tickets for the fete, which takes place in a colonial ball room, is being secured from Miss Mary Stevens, Mrs. Joseph P. Talbot, Mrs. Joseph A. Nesmith, Mrs. Albert W. Thompson, Mrs. L. A. Olney, Mrs. Mary E. Williams, Mrs. Fred A. Estes, Mrs. Edward M. Murphy, Mrs. C. Marshall Forrest and Mr. John G. Wolcott.

The second big attraction for the second part of the week at this popular amusement house will be "Looking for Fun," starring Richard Talmadge, a new comer to the ranks of the screen stars. He is said to be a second Douglas Fairbanks and in the present photoplay does many of the antics that have brought fame to the noted Doug. In addition, there will be the usual comedy and News.

BODY IN RIVER NOT THAT OF EVELYN NESBIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The body of a woman closely resembling photographs of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, found floating in the Potomac river Monday, was said yesterday by newspapermen not to be that of the ex-actress. Washington police communicated early yesterday with New York authorities in an effort to check their identification of the body as that of the divorced wife of Harry K. Thaw. After examining photographs provided by local newspapers, but last night had received no reply to their inquiries.

Newspapermen, who attended the trial of Harry Thaw in connection with the killing of Stanford White, or were otherwise acquainted with the appearance of Evelyn Nesbit, said last night that the body found in the river showed at first glance marked resemblance to the one-time actress, but that closer examination revealed it was not she.

AMUSEMENT NOTES
By Theatres' Own Press Agents
B. P. KEITH'S THEATRE
A laughing show, headed by those princes of mirth, Dave Seed and Ralph Prince, is scheduled for performance at the B. P. Keith theatre throughout the present week, and it has met with complete approval. These two men are quite in a class by themselves when it comes to rigging up laugh-provoking situations. "Things and Stuff" is the rather odd title of their skit, but it is without doubt one of the funniest things of the whole season. Pat Barrett and Nora Cunneen in "Looking for Fun" have a queer but effective comedy act, while Arthur Eurt have a domestic comedy located in the Alps and called "The Dizzy Heights." Some of the repartee in the very brightest of these three are Jack Benny, violin humorist; Kane & Gray, dancers; LaVail & Sister, acrobats and Arena Bros., eccentric acrobats. Motion pictures of the musical of the late pons are shown at all performances.

RIALTO THEATRE
John Lowell, who plays the role of Joe Morgan, the regenerated barroom victim, in the photoplay, "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," showing at the Rialto theatre, will personally appear at the theatre today and will tell the circumstances under which the film was screened. His coming will be welcome to the hundreds of people who plan seeing the production for they will have an opportunity to compare the well known screen star with his appearance and work on the screen. Last night's performance of the big picture again brought capacity crowds to the theatre and the scores had to be turned away. Genuine approval of its big scenes were heard on every side and there is definite assurance that the theatre will be crowded with people for the remainder of the week. It is hardly necessary to review this story for the public. Old-timers who knew and loved the play, will appreciate the opportunity of seeing their favorites play the roles that have brought tears and laughter to the eyes of millions throughout the world. There is a joy, sorrow and thrilling action for all.

To miss one of this week's performances of "The Broken Wing" will mean to lose one of the greatest, if not the greatest, production Miss Fields and her own company ever attempted. Those who have already witnessed one of the presentations proclaim it unequalled in the far-reaching spectacular scene-creations are concerned, while the work of the engaging cast is excellent. Miss Fields is most entertaining in her characterization of the Mexican girl. The piece has some good humor, a love romance and many thrills. See it. Next week's production will be the great emotional society play "The Acquittal."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Final performances will be given this evening at the Merrimack Square theatre of "The Lane That Had No Turning," starring Agnes Ayres and "Boomerang Bill," with Lionel Barrymore in the leading role. "Why Girls Leave Home," starring Anna Q. Nilsson, will be the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The production strikes a new note in photoplay presentation and demonstrates that a vital lesson may be taught in a manner most entertaining, far from without undue stress of much sentimentalism. Harry Rapt who produced the picture and William High who directed the actual photographing of the scenes have left but little of the famous old American melodrama from

Bleachers Are Not What Make a Baseball Umpire White

BOXING

Billy Murphy, the "fighting Irish" featherweight of St. Louis, and his manager Eddie Harvey are due to reach Lowell some time today.

In signing articles for his bout here tomorrow night with Mickey Travers at the Crescent club, Murphy agreed to be in Lowell the day before the battle.

Upon arriving here Harvey will notify Promoter Dodge and seek the playing Murphy do light training in some local gym, possibly the Moody club, to timber up after the long ride over from New York.

Murphy will work out in the morning tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock both he and Travers are to step on the scales. They are to weigh in at 126 pounds, the featherweight limit.

Travers and his pilot, Vic Richardson, are expected to blow into town tomorrow morning. Travers has rested up since his thrilling bout with K. O. Atkins, which he won a week ago at Monday night. He has engaged in light work and sends word that he is in the pink of condition.

Habe Christo of this city and Joe Larue of Salem are expected to furnish considerable fireworks in the semi-final tomorrow night. Both are terrific fighters and indications point to some force knocking while the number lasts.

In the preliminary Eddie Purcell and Jacky Clark, both of Lowell and Jimmy McMahon and Danny Cavanaugh of the Spaulding City will perform.

With the Old Time Diamond Heroes

The famous career of Jesse Burkett who guided the Worcester Boosters in the New England league when Lowell was battling for honors in the same circuit, is well known in this city. All who followed the game a dozen years ago will remember the fat little cracker with red and black mackinaw. After leaving the New England league Jesse went to Holy Cross and put on the game of the major there. Now he is in the major whether or not to join forces with John McGraw for another season as a coach.

He then played baseball for Cleveland back in the National league he was looked upon as the greatest hardest hitting outfielder. He also did the trick for the St. Louis Browns in the outfield for a number of years. In his last years in St. Louis he came to be known as "Old Crack" because of his lively way in which he got back at the bleachers.

Since Burkett quit the majors he has played brilliantly as a minor league manager as he four times piloted the Worcester team to championships in the New England league. He is no think highly of Jesse.

There was no enthusiasm when Burkett started on his managerial career for the Worcester team. There was no enthusiasm on the other hand. Baseball fans did not know Burkett. Although he made his home there, he had never been a professional baseball player. There was lacking that personal interest in him which a Worcester fan would have noticed.

From the first Burkett showed ability that even those who knew him did not suspect he possessed. Largely through his efforts a plot of ground was secured which insured a financial success for the Worcester team. In three seasons teams in various leagues had tried to make baseball a success by using the Worcester oval. The grounds were handsome, but a long distance from the city.

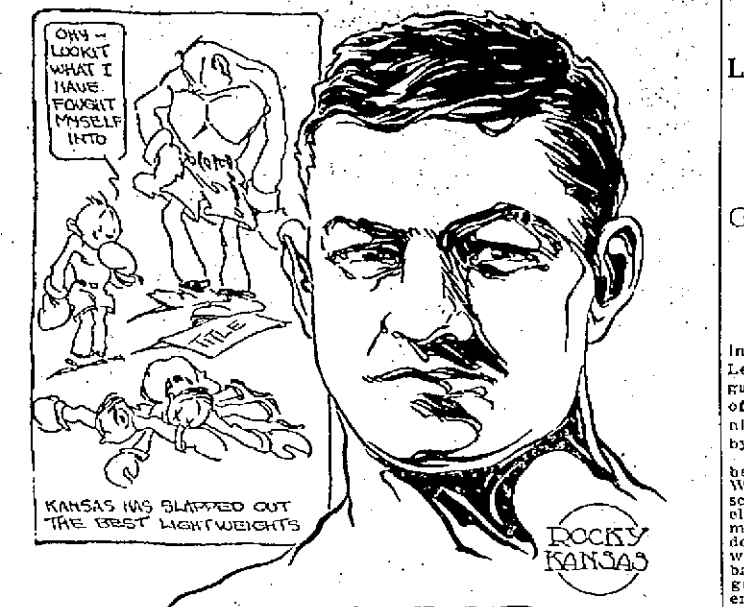

Burkett and his associates secured a plot of land less than a mile from the heart of the city. It was called Boulevard park. The grounds had been a public dump and was secured in mid-winter. No one believed it could be made into a baseball diamond in time for the spring opening. But in doing so Burkett displayed the same stuff which gave him four successive championships.

St. Louis will never forget Burkett, who played left field for the Browns in the first days of that team in the American league. He was one of the greatest hitters and batters the big leagues ever owned. In those days he was a royal fielder, batter and runner. He was so fast that when he began to slow up the exciting fans not after him. He retaliated and accordingly drew for himself the name of "The Crab."

Burkett was born in Wheeling, W. Va., December 4, 1870. His first professional engagement was with Scranton in 1888. He went to Worcester and was later traded to New York. At this time he was a pitcher, but so wild New York farmed him out to John Noh, for a couple of seasons. In 1891 New York sold him to the Cleveland club of the National league and there he developed into one of the hardest hitting outfielders the game has ever seen. When the St. Louis Americans took the field Burkett joined them and remained with them until 1905 when he was traded to the Boston Americans for George Stone and $2500 in cash. He remained with that team only a year and went back to Worcester.

The fact that Jesse is well along in years can be shown from the fact in his own record. He received a tryout with the Giants last season. Tomorrow—Fred C. Clark.

ROCKY KANSAS IS A CUSTOMER IN THE RING

Rocky Kansas is to get another shot at the lightweight title when he meets Champion Benny Leonard on February 10, in New York.

The bout is to be 15 rounds to a decision. While Leonard is picked to retain his title without much difficulty, Kansas unquestionably has a chance.

As far as class is concerned, it is all with Leonard, yet Kansas is the type of fighter who must be feared. He is strong, willing and has plenty of courage. He likes to fight. That makes him dangerous.

Kansas is a peculiar looking fighter. He is short of stature with hairy chest and long arms, which are constantly flying through space, in or close to the opponent's guard. Last year was a big one for Kansas. He jumped from the ordinary performer to a championship contender.

He scored knockouts over such good boys as Jimmy Duffy, Richie Mitchell and Bobby Ward.

Kansas also received the decision over such classy performers as Willie Jackson, Lew Tendler, Frankie Britt and Johnny Ray.

On June 6, 1921, Kansas had a chance at the title when he met Leonard in a 12-round bout at Madison, N. J. It was a no-decision affair, so Kansas' only chance was to win by a knockout. Leonard was the master of the situation at all times, although Kansas was always dangerous and finished strong.

Kansas is taking the coming bout most seriously. He is confident that he is in for a busy evening. If training and effort mean anything, Kansas has a great chance.

Evidently Leonard is not in the least worried as his manager, Billy Gibson, has booked three fights that are to follow the Kansas affair.

GREAT GAME OF BASKETBALL

Lowell Five Evens Up Big Series by Beating C. Y. M. L., 23 to 21

Garrison Finish Pulls Game Out of Fire in Final Minutes of Play.

By a most spectacular garrison finish in the last moments of play, the Lowell Five pulled the second game in the big basketball series out of the fire at the Crescent rink last night and triumphed over the C.Y.M.L. by the score of 25 to 21.

Seldom has such a thrilling finish been witnessed at a game in the city. With under 40 seconds running and the score tied 21 to 21, Jones of the Lowell five grabbed the ball out of a scramble near his own basket and dashed down the court. He was met by the C.Y.M.L. with bewildering speed and tossed the ball into the hoop for the deciding goal, and then the whistle sounded ending the night's action.

The scenes following the goal goal were a description and it may be said any doubt relative to the revival of the game was certainly allayed. The contest was up and back all the way and every shot and every feature play and every foul was brought to the attention of the crowd. The rounds of cheers and applause from the supporters of the rival outfits. Even the neutral fan, could not resist the temptation to cheer for the work of the quintets demanded general recognition.

And to add to the excitement Joe Foley and his big brother, started a round fistic combat in the final period. The other players and the referee intervened and halted hostilities. Referee Wilson was on his toes all night and he kept his eyes on the players. He called five fouls on the Lowell five and five on the C.Y.M.L. A double foul was called for the Foley-Lepper clash. Two fouls were called on Smith and Jones appeared in the Lowell five lineup, and both figured prominently in the result. Tierney, another player, started at center, but he was soon withdrawn in favor of Smith. Lew, himself, was in uniform, but did not play, because of a slight injury to his right arm. He was, however, in the crowd and he kept his eyes on the game. The Lowell five, too, had one of its stars out of the center, but he was soon obliged to lay off because of an injured shoulder.

There was some objection raised by the C.Y.M.L. over the "rings" in Lew's lineup, but he justified their presence because of no restrictive terms in the series agreement. He also pointed to his right arm and his left arm, which were both injured, and he kept his eyes on the game. The Lowell five, too, had one of its stars out of the center, but he was soon obliged to lay off because of an injured shoulder.

Classics of the Diamond

Jim Vaughan, now out of the big leagues because of the violation of some rule of baseball, always a great pitcher, but seldom strong on reports. However, a stock phrase that is now much used was really coined by Vaughan some fifteen years ago.

At that time Jim Jeffries reigned supreme among the heavyweight pugilists and Stanley Ketchell was a bear among the middleweights.

Jim, always a quiet fellow, enjoyed nothing more than a scuffle in the dressing room. One day he and Neal Ball, who weighed around 150, started to fool in front of the Cleveland bench. It ended when Vaughan picked Ball up bodily and seated him in the corner of the dugout in a rather rude manner.

The easy manner in which Vaughan had handled Ball caused the latter to remark:

"If I was as big and strong as you I would challenge Jeffries."

"Well, you are just about Ketchell's size," replied Vaughan, "and there is nothing to prevent you taking him on."

Banks Wins at Checkers

GLASGOW, Feb. 8.—Newell W. Banks' victory last night, his first in the world's checkers championship match with Robert Stewart of Glasgow, came after a "dummy" opening, with Banks playing the whites. The play was 10-14, followed by 23-19. The next game was drawn after a long struggle. At Banks' request, there will be no play today. Stewart has won two games, Banks one, and 27 were drawn.

Sunday Golf Impresses British Players

which was in reply to one from "Tiger," to Joe Mitchell Chapple, editor of the magazine.

"Laddie Boy has made reply," President Harding wrote, "and I am sending you a copy herewith for your information, since you were the bearer of Tiger's message."

After telling of a thrill that wagged my stub tail violently when I read of the part you are playing, giving to the public a demonstration of the fidelity which characterizes our lives, "Laddie Boy's" letter says:

"Every dog plays his part well when he is merely his natural self, but unhappily many a dog more or less spoiled by his environment and associations. I imagine I am spoiled some myself. So many people express a wish to see me and I shake hands with so many callers at the executive mansion that I fear there are some people who think I am a dog of no account. I am sure I have no such aspirations.

"Of course it is exceedingly interesting and worth while to be in the center of so many activities of great importance, but there is an air of earnestness and responsibility about it which I can see in my chief that I often long for the good old days back home.

"Sometimes the chief acts as though he would like to sit down when he and I can be alone, and I can look at him with sympathetic eyes and he fixes his gaze on me in a grateful sort of way, as much as to say, 'Well, Laddie Boy, you and I are real friends, and we will never cheat each other.'

"When the chief looks at me this way, I know that he feels that I will never fail him, no matter what he does, and that I will never be ungrateful nor unfaithful.

"I realize that a dog's life is limited in years, but it is, after all, a wonderful life to live. I can believe we leave our impress on our human associates. I have been because of my temporary assignment to the White House, you attribute to me greater knowledge than I can really claim to possess. I am only 18 months old and I do not know many other dogs. I have heard the chief talk about some of his dog friends, and I know that he has been known as the friend of good dogs.

"Say! talk about fellowship—me for the company of a small boy who has been taught never to be cruel to animals. That's the association for play that strengthens the heart and brightens the spirit. There are a lot of grown-ups whom it is most agreeable to associate with.

"When I came to the White House the mistress gave me a rather cold shoulder. I found out afterward it was because she did not want to be come attached to me and excessively grieved in case our association was to be severed. Since then she has 'fallen' for me to beat the band. She lets me come to the private dining room now and then, and I can coax morsels from the table a whole lot more effectively than a lot of office-seekers can appeal for jobs. But I mustn't talk about these things, for fear I will be giving away some of the White House secrets.

"I have no doubt you will do a lot of good. If you can only have the realization that you are helping to establish a more kindly consideration of the life of which we are a part, and you can impress your association with the beauty of the friendship of dogs for human associates who treat them becomingly, and instill in human lives some of the honesty and fidelity which characterizes the lives we dogs live, you will find a compensation in the good you do which will all surpass any other experience in your life.

The latter says there is no cat to play with at the White House and adds:

"I do not think I am sorry thereat. Making isn't much fun in pursuing and being pursued. I mustn't talk about as some of our forebears seem to think. It is really fine to dwell in tranquility."

"Laddie Boy" signs himself, "Yours, with a cordial wag, a friendly sniff and a joyous greeting."

Pupil Writes Impression of School and Teachers

The following letter written by a pupil of the Green evening school indicates that the writer appreciates the opportunities offered him and incidentally it shows what foreigners have to contend with in struggling to master our language. This communication is printed here as written and we may say that while there are mistakes in grammar the handwriting is far above the average of the public schools.

Editor Sun:

My impressions from Green Evening school: When I go in to the that holy building, which we name Green evening school, I seize one movement, one liveliness, and every day I am doing with great zeal and promptitude, and can help, for education, formation, and reformation, the more small and poor I am. These all reflect the good direction and the employees of school. They are all united with same zeal, same promptitude, with one aim and nobility and one polite firmness are doing their own great duties for which the country charges them. Are doing one great calling useful for all the pupils and holy for the country and the community. This whole calling certainly first reflect for the principal and honorable Mr. (John) Barr, man with great formation, important physiognomy, without fatigue always, courageous and laughily executes the all that this calling. Calling holy.

"The progress." Man humble with all the qualifications which he must have for the progress, with smile on his face rambles, from one class to another, inquires, learns, gives life for everything and every pupil praises on his smile look the love that he has for the pupils and that is enough, as new courage, new hope and new zeal implants for all and carry out better the great calling, the progress and education for which certainly and only build that holy school. The employees school's constitute with the teachers Misses, M. Coughlin, M. Reardon, M. Sullivan, E. Smith, E. Barrow, C. Brown, M. Celloty, A. Courtney, E. Denlan, K. Early, M. Fay, A. Fay, M. Green, C. Love, E. Lynch, M. Marren, A. Masterson, A. Quenon, E. Provencier, A. Ramsay and with janitors, Mr. O. Brown and Mr. Kenzie, all faithful, faithful of their own duties and the oath for the country, all contribute for the progress of the pupils. The people in the pupils offers homage to them. And the country rewards the virtue.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Rules of Procedure for Present Term Adopted Last Evening

Minority Vote Voiced by Women Members on Several Occasions

Women members of the school committee voiced a minority vote on several occasions last night when the committee met in special session for the purpose of considering and adopting the rules of procedure for the present term. The rules finally were adopted with a few minor changes.

On the matter of the amendment which strikes out the provision that the superintendent shall serve as secretary of the board, ex-officio, Dr. Slaughter, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Donovan presented a solid opposition, but lost their point on a 6 to 3 vote. The committee elected Miss Anna B. Bartlett to fill a vacancy in the Bartlett school caused by the death of Miss Prescott. Miss Bartlett was the nominee of Clarence N. Weed, acting superintendent of the Normal school.

When the committee came into public session, after a rather lengthy conference, it was evident that the women members of the board favored adoption of the rules by sections, whereas the male members, in the majority, favored adoption in entirety. Finally it was decided to proceed chapter by chapter.

Chapter one was adopted without dissent, but Mrs. Pearson and Dr. Slaughter voted against chapter two. The third section passed, but the fourth brought forth some criticism and negative votes by the same two members.

This section has to do with the examinations for teachers and principals, and although the majority rules governing teachers, Mr. Delaney said he preferred to see a new committee appointed. This motion carried and Chairman Riley named Dr. Slaughter, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Lambert and Mrs. Donovan.

WANT MAYOR CURLEY FOR SPEAKER

Mayor James M. Curley of Boston will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Washington club to be held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 23, if the plans of the officers are successful, and although the mayor has not yet accepted the invitation, it is hoped that he will find it expedient to do so. His business affairs, however, may prevent him from accepting at the present time.

Congressman John Jacob Rogers may be present at the meeting, and contribute his efforts to the program. The Washington club will celebrate the anniversary of the anniversary of the noted patriot for which it is named, and it has been the custom in the past to have out-of-town speakers present.

The officers of the club at the present time are: President, Thomas E. Kelley; first vice president, President, Hon. Overlook; secretary, Charles T. McKelvey; treasurer, John P. Adams; Charles J. Landers; Joseph P. Burns; Frederick E. Meloy and George H. Donahue are the other members of the committee in charge of the anniversary observance.

MATRIMONIAL

At a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Joseph's church at 7 o'clock this morning, Mr. Edmund Chandler and Miss Lucille Martin, two well known and popular young residents of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arnold Baron, O.M.I. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by the choir. The bride wore a white crepe de chene gown with veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. Alexis Martin, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Edmund Martin. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast served at the home of the bride's parents, 150 Pawtucket street, and a luncheon for the happy couple left on a brief honeymoon trip. Upon their return Saturday night they will be tendered a reception at the home of the groom's parents, 25 Alma street. They will make their home at 150 Pawtucket street.

MacBRAYNE TO GET AFTER THE "COPS"

Acting Superintendent W. C. MacBrayne of the police department announced today that at all roll calls beginning at 5.30 this evening, he intends giving the patrolmen a lecture on liquor law enforcement on their beats, telling them that the results to date have not been satisfactory and that improvement must be shown. The superior officers of the department will be held responsible for the men's conduct in this line.

A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT

The police are taking notice of the fact that many householders are leaving their sidewalks in a very precarious condition on account of the ice. It was stated today that said householders are likely to slip into court on their own ice, and the police will do their best to slide them across with a fine, if they don't get busy at once. The fact that they are not competitors of the Gage company will not do in court.

AT GREENHALL SCHOOL Parent-Teachers Association

Addressed by Lowell Textile School Principal

In an address delivered yesterday afternoon before the Parent-Teachers' association of the Greenhall school, Principal Charles H. Barnes of the Lowell Textile school dwelt on the importance of good education to young men and women seeking worthwhile occupations. The talk was illustrated by figures on a blackboard, showing how a boy with a higher education generally forged ahead of other boys in the same business. Quoting actual facts, Mr. Barnes declared that a young man with high training has a greater opportunity to succeed in any occupation or profession.

Mr. Barnes appealed to all young people to go as far in school as possible, following a high school education. If practicable, with college training. Anyone who wants a college education now can obtain it, if he is determined to succeed.

At a meeting which was held previous to the lecture it was announced that a number of committees have been appointed, including the social committee for March and April, as follows: Mrs. Knapp, chairman; Mrs. Cossette, Mrs. Covey, Mrs. Burth and Mrs. Flynn. The membership committee is: Mrs. Quinn, chairman; Mrs. Mendenhall, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Hoar, Miss Chaffron, Mrs. Pitts, Mrs. Givens, Mrs. Thompson. The program committee for the year includes: John G. Wolcott, principal of the school, chairman; Mrs. Desrosiers, Miss Gillich, Miss Donlon, Mrs. James Gallagher and Mrs. Hawley.

Mrs. John T. Ashton, president of the association, presided at yesterday's meeting. The social committee served refreshments. The association is planning an active year, and the field day which proved so successful last year may be repeated. The various members of the association received tickets for the coming lecture by Col. French on "Beautiful America."

ANNUAL DANCE BY A. G. POLLARD EMPLOYEES

The Employees' Mutual Benefit association of the A. G. Pollard Co. held its 11th annual dancing party last evening in the Associated hall, with a reception and orchestra program. The special features, decorations, dancing, music and the spirit of enjoyment which prevailed throughout the evening made the party a most successful affair.

The evening was opened with a reception to the guests of honor, including Mr. A. G. Pollard, Miss Martha Fuller, and Mayor George H. Brown, with all of the company and their friends participating heartily.

Next came the concert by the orchestra, comprising classic and popular selections. Dancing followed, and continued until a late hour, with everyone present enjoying the pastime to the utmost.

The pink and white of the decorations, the blended charmingly with the beautiful gown worn by the young ladies, and no prettier affair has been seen this season.

The officers in charge were: General manager, Joseph Plummer; assistant general manager, Margaret Sullivan; floor director, Fred Larson; assistant floor director, Jennie McCall; treasurer, William O'Connor; and chief aids, Irene Poudergast, Virginia Fleming, Reginald Shultz, Herman Porrett, Peter Plummer, Edward White, John Leary and Edward Cronin.

Exercises will be held at Kettling theatre on Tuesday, the 21st, by pupils of the high school, in commemoration of the birth of George Washington.

Mrs. William H. Hayden of Bedford Springs and Miss Beatrice Ayer Johnson of Lowell have arrived in Pasadena, where they are to be guests at the Hotel Maryland.

Miss Mary C. Joyce gave a dinner to the cast of "Pearl" at the Colonial last evening at 6.30 o'clock, after which she gave a brief musical performance at the Lowell Opera house. No more successful production ever has been given by pupils of the high school and last night's affair testified to Miss Joyce's appreciation of the work of the cast.

A large bunch of pussy willows, nicely blossomed, was found in the vicinity of the Middlesex canal yesterday by Sergeant Sam Bigelow of the Lowell police department, who was walking nearby. The sergeant believes these are the first of the season to be found in or about Lowell, and an early spring is looked for by those who consider this an omen.

BANK BURGLAR ALARMS RECEPTION AND SMOKER C. Y. M. L. CARNIVAL WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Guests From Several Cities Entertained by Lowell Aerie of Eagles

Another successful reception and smoker was held last evening by the local aerie of Eagles in Central street hall, with guests present from several cities and addresses by District Deputy Grand Worthy President John A. Loynd of Watertown and former Senator H. W. Draper. The program also included dances, songs and recitations, all being thoroughly enjoyed by members and invited guests.

This was the first visit paid to a Lowell aerie by a district deputy in several years, and the reception last evening was all the more interesting on that account and the attendance all that could have been expected. Mr. Loynd is very popular in Eagle circles.

He discussed last night's aerie session and declared that not only will the Eagles support the program for their own members but will push the plans for federal pensions for the aged. He complimented the local aerie for its splendid organization and expressed a belief that before the end of the present year, the local membership will have reached the 600 mark.

Former Senator Draper discussed old age pensions and the possibility of their passage in the immediate future. He praised the Eagles for their loyalty and pluck in waging the pension campaign so forcefully.

The entertainment program included recitations by P. Grady, R. Kelly, M. Crowe and George McCabe. There were vocal numbers by Brothers Freeman and Callahan. A Brenau gave a soft-shoe dance. Remarks were made by Charles Hackett, Roscoe Hughes and Dr. George W. McLaughlin. The reception and concert, six past worthy presidents of other aeries and a uniformed escort from the Watertown aerie accompanied Brother Loynd to Lowell.

OBJECT TO BEING MOVED License Commissioners Want to Remain in Their Present Quarters

A great deal of opposition developed last night, following a visit by Mayor Brown and Superintendent of Buildings Frank Connor to the police building, to the proposed removal of the Lowell license commission from its present site on the second floor, occupied for more than 30 years, to the third floor of the building.

The commissioners stated that the commission was closely related to the police department, needing its assistance more or less frequently, and as the district court is a county institution, the court and its law officers should move to the court house building. If not satisfied with the present quarters, the license commissioners are available. Any attempt to put the change into effect will be strongly opposed by the commissioners. The mayor and superintendent of buildings visited the building to see if the commissioners could be located on the third floor. The mayor took the protest under advisement.

The commission issued a statement last night to the effect that about 2000 licenses are issued annually, most of which are under the supervision of the police department. It is pointed out that the department has no time to spare in granting or issuing licenses, and that removal would cause great difficulty. In these references, when quick action is necessary. On the other hand, when matters pertaining to keepers of licensed businesses come up in court, the license office has to be referred to.

The commissioners contend that the police station is a municipal building for municipal purposes. Although the county pays an annual rental of $2500 for the maintenance of the court, it is hardly enough to pay the janitors who rent the building. "There is a court house in Gorham street with ample space for court sitting and law offices accommodations. This office is too closely allied with the police department to ask for its removal, and it would be a great inconvenience to the public if it were done," said the statement.

At last night's sitting of the commission, Commissioners Patten and McGrath were present. Clerk Flannery, although confined to his home by sickness at the last meeting, was also present, and Chairman Hanson is expected to be on hand for next week's session. The license commission will meet in place in the family lot in Mt. Pleasant cemetery, Amesbury. Undertaker William H. Saunders in charge.
